Holiday Schedule At Post Office

To handle the sudden increase and heavy shipments from out-of-town, the Virginia Beach post office begins its holiday schedule December 10, 1952. Parcel post and stamp windows will be open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Postmaster Howard S. Meyers has announced.

Postmaster Meyers points out that the crowds are much larger at lunch time. He recommends you mail your Christmas cards and gifts before 10 a. m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m.

The important thing, of course, is to do your shopping and mailing early—before everyone else gets the same idea!

Postmaster Meyers emphasized you should address the envelopes in your best handwriting. A carefully addressed envelope is helpful to the mailman, and a welcome sight to your friends. Be sure to include full name, home address, street, city, state, and zip code.

If all of us follow through on the postmaster's plan for a "perfect Christmas card," the rest will be comparatively easy.

By next week the post office will be swamped with Christmas mail. Postal cancellations normally average about 10,000 pieces of mail per day. But at the peak of the Yuletide season, they will average 50,000 per day.

Each student in the 10th and 11th grade English classes prepared a paper, "I Speak for Democracy." The following nine winners were selected: George Alder, Clayton McGrath, Edward Melver, J. B. Laster, Judd White, Anita Cruser, Gail Bayless, Jane Runk, and Judy Lovell.

From that nine, four semifinalists were chosen by Mrs. Martin Carr and James A. Johnson, Principal. They were Gail Bayless, Judd White, Judy Lovell and Ed Melver.

The City of Virginia Beach annexation plans were discussed Tuesday and a second meeting conference was agreed upon for opposing attorneys. The annexation conference is scheduled for December 15, the date originally set for opening of annexation proceedings in Princess Anne Circuit Court.

Three judges are hearing the city's case to take over approximately 1.3 miles of county territory. The judges are Judge Paul E. Kelham, of the County Circuit Court; Judge Burnette Miller, of Culpeper and Judge Jeff Walters of Olney.

A second pre-trial conference was decided on when the annexation judge ruled that more time was needed to prepare the exhibits and stipulations. The second conference is expected to expedite the trial.

The City of Virginia Beach presented 13 exhibits of which five were not acceptable in Tuesday's proceedings. In addition, County Attorney W. L. Parker and Paul W. Adams, who are planned to the annexation of the city in the area to be annexed which Virginia Beach annexation took exception.

The territory the city is seeking to annex includes North Virginia Beach, Bay Colony, and North Lankford Park, designated as parcel "A," and a small section designated as parcel "B," running south of Lankford Road diagonally southeastward to Highway 104.

Included in the area is the school on which the joint-venture is made by city and county. According to the 1950 Census of Virginia, the court is governed by rules for pre-trial conference, which call for the simplification of issues and the elimination of irrelevant and immaterial evidence, the fact issue, without prejudice, etc. Agreement was reached between the commissioners of the revenue involved.

Engineering consultants representing the city in the proceedings are James C. Casey Jr. and Mrs. S. S. Shuler, of Norfolk, and for the county, P. M. Gammage, county planning consultant, and John B. McCauley, of the Norfolk engineering firm of McCauley Associates.

DON'T LET ACCIDENT 'GIFT' BE YOURS, JOHNSON WARNS

"Shop with care—walk with more important saving—the saving of lives."

This advice was given to Virginia Beach shoppers today by Reeves E. Johnson of the Virginia Beach Police Department.

Chief Johnson reminded local citizens that the Virginia Beach police and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee are co-operating this month in a program to reduce holiday traffic hazards. "Shoppers may not realize it," he said, "but Christmas shopping is definitely a holiday hazard."

The chief pointed out that at this time of year careful shopping can result in a considerable saving of money. "And careful walking," he said, "results in a saving of lives."

The spokesman for the local police suggested three rules for careful walkers and shoppers to observe:

1. Do not carry so many packages that they obscure your vision—either directly ahead of you, to the side, or your rear of the pavement.
2. Be certain that parcels are wrapped securely. If you should get a package, look carefully for loose strings or tags that might catch on the curb or in the street.
3. Avoid the tendency to follow closely through crowded aisles in shops. Always keep your eyes on the road and not on the display windows.

TRANSPORTATION

For the first century and a half of Virginia's history, horse-drawn carriages were the only means by which trips on land could be made. The first roads were built around 1624 and private coaches became popular about 1677. These vehicles, covered with mud from top to bottom, sometimes overturning and sinking into deep mud, were a source of much trouble. Tobacco caused many roads to be built and the first road made by the General Assembly in 1773 was made by the General Assembly.

GARDEN GAB

It's also that this can be one of our latest months in our garden, for Christmas is in the air and all of us are busy preparing the Santa's visit to the kids. Now, this is a "must" month for the most important gardening there—be sure that your plants shrubs that would delight the soul as well as the eye. We are for-the time that the plant you'd like to give should be set out, leave your order with the nursery for delivery at a certain time, then take one bloom or branch of the plant and send it to your friend, all done up with fancy wrappings and ribbons, with a note saying when the plant will be delivered.

Not so long ago Santa might have gotten a good laugh when he read a letter asking for a load of topsoil or a bag of fertilizer or peatmoss, but not any more. With all of us taking more interest in our gardens, we think there would be ideal gifts. Potted plants also make wonderful and welcome gifts—especially to people who are renting their homes and have little chance to have a real garden. One of our favorite potted plants is the amaranth.

Usually the florist amaranth will not withstand the cold, and do much better if you keep them in pots. However, if it is of the hardy variety, set it out immediately after blooming is over. The tender variety may be sunk out of doors, in its pot, for the summer. It should be shaded and

FORT STORY NEWS

Col. R. H. T. Hansen from Copenhagen, Denmark, a transportation corps specialist in the Danish Army, concluded a 30-day tour of T. C. installations and training centers in this country by visiting Fort Story November 26. Colonel Hansen was welcomed to the Fort by Col. Henry G. Langer, sub-institution commander, and escorted on a tour of operations by Capt. Robert J. Oltroy, Post S-3.

Colonel Hansen was impressed by the DUKW and showed considerable interest in the amphibious vehicle. He revealed that as the Danish Army has seen the tour of the Post included all phases of training and covered the port and DUKW operations. Featured on the program was a ride in a sea-borne DUKW.

Colonel Hansen left the United States November 28 to return to Denmark by air.

OFFICER CHANGES

The following changes in officer personnel at Fort Story were made during the week: Lt. Col. Herbert N. Reed was assigned as commanding officer of the 54th T. A. T. Co. and assigned to Ft. Det. Fort Story, 9234-6 77th St. as executive officer. Maj. Edgar C. Hetrick, formerly executive officer of the 54th T. A. Co., has been appointed commanding officer of that unit. Capt. Paul E. Workman has been relieved of his duties as commanding officer of the 66th T. A. T. Co., and appointed executive officer of the 54th T. A. Co. Lt. Earl Laird replaces Captain Workman as commanding officer of the 66th. He was formerly with the 66th.

OFFICERS' WIVES MEET

The Fort Story Officers' Wives' Club held its monthly meeting Wednesday, December 3, at the Officers' Club on Post Lane. The meeting was presided over by Capt. Paul E. Workman and was well attended by members and guests.

The meeting was highlighted by a Christmas program that included gift exchange among members. Each lady brought a present for this purpose.

The club has selected the following slate of officers for the coming year: President, Ruth Reed; vice-president, Charlotte Oltroy; treasurer, Helen McMillen; secretary, Rose Polak; parliamentarian, Shirley Horn.

The chairman of the reception, publicity, program and entertainment committees will be Dorothy Hamblough, Mary Godber, Jane Wagley and Helen Farnham.

NEW SERVICE CLUB

Special Services at Fort Story has added a new event to its weekly program, a skating party which will follow along the same lines as the weekly dances held

The event, held for the first time this week, met with enthusiastic response from all the troops present. Miss Eleanor Wall, Post recreation director, recruited a number of girls from Virginia Beach and Norfolk and hopes to increase the number in the future so that every boy present will have a partner for the evening. Transportation for the young ladies is provided by Special Services.

Skating parties will be held every Thursday evening the roller skating rink is available. Skates are provided free to all who are interested.

WEEKLY SPORTS REPORT

The Fort Story basketball team rolled up another triumph in league competition this week by running its winning streak to eight in a row. The B. S. Coast Guard team from Norfolk were the Story's latest victims, losing a 5-6 decision on their home floor. The starters jumped off to a quick lead as the soldiers found themselves handicapped by a handout type game. The defensive play and strong rebounding of Shields stranded the tide and allowed Fort Story to regain the lead during the first half.

The Day Fund is 100% fund.

Art Gallery Scheduled to Open at Randolph-Macon

The formal opening of the new art gallery building at Randolph-Macon Woman's College at Lynchburg, Va., will be held Thursday, December 11. It has been announced by Dr. William F. Quillen Jr., president of the college.

The gallery, which was built on the campus in cooperation with the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C., was completed last spring. The National Gallery of Art will have the use of the building to store art treasures in the event of any national emergency.

The building is completely fireproof and air conditioned, and has been designed in accordance with the most modern principles of museum construction. On an elevation overlooking the other college buildings, the new gallery is one story in height and has a small basement containing a boiler room and air-conditioning unit.

The building is 149 feet long and 52 feet wide. The walls are of concrete block construction with brick veneer on the exterior.

The staff of the National Gallery of Art is working with the college on plans for the opening. An exhibition of some of the outstanding works from the gallery will be sent to Randolph-Macon for this event and will be on exhibit for several weeks after the formal opening.

Dr. Raymond Stiles, curator in charge of educational work on the staff of the National Gallery of Art, will be the principal speaker in connection with the exercises. Dr. Stiles will speak at the regular student assembly and at the special program in the afternoon. Following the program there will be an exhibition of the new art gallery will provide more adequately for the maintenance of the college's collection of paintings and other works of art. The Randolph-Macon collection, primarily of the work of American artists, is regarded by many authorities as one of the most important of its size in the South. Outstanding painters represented in the collection are: Beal, Bellows, Carroll, Cassatt, Chase, Eakins, Flaxman, Hunt, J. M. W. Turner, Inness, O'Keefe, Prendergast, Robinson, Ryder, Seyffert, Sloan, Speicher, Tansy, Twachtman, Watkins, Whistler, and forty works by Arthur B. Davies from the late Lizzie F. Bliss collection.

Paintings from the Randolph-Macon collection have been on loan to many national and international exhibitions. In addition to gifts, the collection has grown through purchases of the fine arts committee of the college and through the Louise J. Smith Fund, bequeathed to the college at the death of the first head of the Randolph-Macon Art Department.

Art works from other collections are exhibited at the college approximately twice a month during the school year.

VA Has Home Loans for Sale

More than 23,000 home loans, with aggregate principal amount of over $150 million, are available for sale by the Veterans Administration to private lending institutions. VA announced.

The loans have been made by VA under the direct lending program established by the Housing Act of 1950. This law authorizes VA to make home mortgage loans directly to veterans in those areas where VA finds that private capital is not available for GI 4 percent loans guaranteed by VA.

When sold, VA's direct loans are guaranteed up to 80 percent of the loan in the same manner as a GI loan made by private lenders. The average loan now available for sale is approximately $9,000 in initial principal amount with a typical maturity of 20 years and a cash down payment of 5 to 10 percent.

The loans are sold by VA regional offices, either individually or in blocks. Eligible purchasers, any private lending institution showing ability to service loans, may reserve for a limited period the right to buy any number or group of loans.

This procedure permits inspection and analysis of the loans and the related properties by the prospective buyer in advance of purchase. None of the loans offered for sale is delinquent.

T. B. King, director of VA's loan guaranty service, emphasized the high investment caliber of VA direct loans.

UNIQUE OPTICAL SERVICE OFFERED TO RESIDENTS OF VIRGINIA BEACH AND PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

The Salasky Optical Co., a name known to residents of Princess Anne County for over 40 years and located NOW at 2140 Atlantic Avenue, across from Cherry-Pearson's Men's Shop—has been offering to the people of this community an optical service that is generally associated only with a metropolitan area.

This service is quick, accurate, and reliable. For those who have the misfortune to need optical repairs cannot be without their eyeglasses, the Salasky Optical Co. can make these repairs, while you wait and thereby NOT have to be without your good vision for all your workday seeing.

Eyeglass frames, minor adjustments and repairs are made while you wait. Replacement of lens, or lenses, and new eyeglasses, all in a "one day service." This eliminates the unnecessary trip to Norfolk which entails:

- many problems, such as transportation to the city, the problem of parking, and that feeling of not feeling like "home-folks in a strange place."

The Salasky Optical Co. has had this branch of their business on the beach for a number of years and is personally conducted by Dr. Stanley Salasky—who resides at Virginia Beach and is "born" around. The other branches of the Salasky Optical Co. are located in Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Newport News, Va.

So for the best in eye care and service when you need it, call the

STRAIGHT From the SHOULDER The MIXING BOWL

..... Fashion, That Is!

By ALICE BREWER WHITE

Fashion-Weekend's Editor

"Woman's World" 9 a. m. — Monday through Saturday over WTAR — features Mrs. White's chatter about celebrities, home-making, garden and style events. Look for "A. B. W.'s Green Thumb Show" December 6, over WTAR-TV, 11-11:30 a. m.)

Stripes make news in cruise and resort fashions these days. One notable trend in the new cottons is stripes. There are striped fabrics of every description in denim, chambray, sailcloth, broadcloth, seersucker, and cotton satin, to mention a few!

It looks like a very strong year for stripes — in combination with each other as well as alone. Half-line stripes in sturdy fabrics, duck or denim, and bold printed stripes on broadcloth to mix in with them. These are as striking in combinations of colors, such as pale blue and earth brown, as they are in black and white.

Cruise and resort cottons, of course, are important to the Fair Sex in Princess Anne and Virginia Beach since they are the forerunners of our most popular spring and summer fashions, and there we can get a very good picture of the shape of things to come for next season.

One gay new cotton with a lot of dash is peppermint stripes, with the bold eye-catching stripes going around the skirt and bodice and making a V effect front and center. With a wide belt, 'tis very flattering.

and a few wool faces. It is interesting to note the complete absence of the stiff gulleps so popular last spring.

Violet is the new bright note seen in many of the French mid-season collections, not only in lace but as a general color note for wools and silks. Black and navy are in brown, occasional greys but very little pastel and white lace.

By the end of this year, American hat shops will be featuring Coronation styles, including a very gay little hat inspired by historical and royal themes. An Elizabethan man's bonnet gave English milliner Otto Lanza of Bond street the inspiration for a folded straw cloche the echo of a hat worn by Anne Boleyn is seen in a model with a little velvet "kiss" in front; while a 15th Century straw is entwined with three Prince of Wales feathers perched in the center of the flat crown.

Some English — designed hats have the traditional shape of a poiret's coronet. Dandelion leaves are used on other models. They are applied in velvet on the underside of huge-brimmed Breton sailors, or in straw on a hat the brim of which curves back from the face.

Coronation hats colors are robe in red, pink, white, and gold, earlier blue, including all the imperial violets from royal purple to a tender lilac. Almost all these hats are worn straight on the head. Most are designed to complement a short upswept hair style. Except for a few deep cloche designs the crowns are shallow, usually receding slightly at the back. Comes the spring and everyone will be a "crowned head!"

People, Places, Stuff . . . and Things

Mamie Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II are two ladies who will be greatly copied in the fashion world these next few months. In fact, already out in Hollywood, Tony Martin's luscious wife, dancer Cyd Charisse, has cut bangs and is the first Hollywood star to sport Mamie's own identification. Lilly Dache has been featuring the little rhinestone tiara on bright velvet bands, worn atop a brown net snood, for several fall months. Everyone will be wearing tiaras at the Christmas-to-do! Betty Davis, Helen Hayes, Katharine Hepburn, Margaret Sullivan and Shirley Booth are capturing Broadway audiences right out from under their eyebrows — and all of those scintillating gals are from Hollywood!

Wiley C. Harrell was considerably excited over the thousands who turned out to welcome Santa the night Virginia Beach's light-fest-Christmas went on, and proud over the way the Beach has grown in the past few years. Guess every child attended the welcoming ceremonies. The Retail Merchant Association folks are to be

Did you know that the orange is one of our oldest and newest fruits? Adam and Eve may not have had any in the Garden of Eden, but oranges have been growing in the Orient for thousands of years.

Columbus brought the first seeds to this hemisphere. The orange seeds to this hemisphere. The By 1679 oranges were growing in St. Augustine, Fla.

However, oranges are claimed by the twentieth century. It is new in flavor, quality, texture and in the smaller quantity of seeds. And of course the abundance in which the orange reaches our markets is amazing.

This year's golden tide of oranges from Florida has been rolling in for several weeks now. The crop this year is estimated at 51 million boxes. This is a substantial increase over the past three years.

The grapefruit crop has not increased — about 23 million boxes are estimated for the year. What are you doing with the abundant orange crop? I hope you are serving orange desserts, oranges as breakfast fruit, orange juice — all the many ways you can serve oranges to the family. Oranges are an excellent source of Vitamin C.

Orange Bow Knobs

One and one-half cups milk (acidified) combined with 1-3 cup shortening, 1-3 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon salt. Cool to lukewarm. Soften 1 yeast cake in about 1/2 cup water. Add 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup eggs until light, add 1-4 cup orange juice and two tablespoons grated orange rind, and blend thoroughly. Add 5 cups flour and knead or lightly floured breadboard or in large bowl. Let double in bulk. Punch down and roll out dough about one-half inch thick. Cut in one-half inch strips. Tie each in knot. Place on greased baking sheet, let rise until double in bulk. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 15 minutes.

For topping, blend two tablespoons orange juice, one teaspoon grated orange rind and one cup 4X sugar. Spread over as soon as removed from oven.

An excellent sauce for roasted duck is an orange currant sauce — and here's the way to make it: Break up one cup of currant jelly with fork, add one tablespoon grated orange rind and a dash of salt. Dissolve in juice of two oranges one teaspoon prepared mustard. Add this to jelly mixture and blend well.

For a quickie, and delicious dessert:

Hawaiian Ambrosia

Six oranges

One No. 2 can pineapple chunks

Two cups grated coconut

Peel oranges and carefully cut out each section. Add the pineapple chunks (drained) and then blend in the coconut. Chill and serve — 6 to 8 servings.

By now, see you next Thursday.

No Change in Salmon Prices, Says OPS

OPS has announced that the processor selling prices for the 1952 pack of canned salmon will be the same as the 1951 pack. The new pack is expected to be about the same size as last year's.

PETTICOAT LANE

Especially for Motherhood

Imagine! Transforming curtains and aprons, children's party and play clothes, in a matter of minutes — at the laundry board!

There is an exciting new "iron-on" version of the popular Petticoat Lane fabric. It's called "Petticoat Lane" and it's a new product. Transform: Rich, Radiant, requires no sewing — you simply iron it on! It will adhere properly, even through automatic laundrettes. One side of this rich-radiant fabric is covered with a shimmering plastic coating. This coating under the heat of an iron, forms a permanent bond with the fabric to which it's being applied. Such a time saver for the housewife. Look for it at the notion counters. It's new!

If you are buying new glass for Christmas gift-giving, crystal is usually a wiser choice than colored glass unless you definitely know the recipient needs a note of color in the room in which the glass will be used. Crystal will give more freedom in the use of color elsewhere on the table, and most liquids look prettier in crystal than in anything else.

A small book, or magazine, rack for night reading is a nice guest room gift. A comfortable, pretty breakfast tray and china, for breakfast in bed or for use when there is illness, is another pleasant gift for a recent hostess.

If you have an amateur photographer in the house, one who has a dark-room yen, or an amateur artist who paints with daub, messy stuff all about, have you ever thought of giving them a room, remember that there is as such thing as a "correct" or "incorrect" color combination. First, select a basic color that you really like. Then decide if you want a contrasting color. By all means confine yourself to just a few colors in one room. Too many ideas are just as bad as none at all. Let your guiding principle be simplicity, both in design and in color combinations. When you think you're already to start to "do it," gather the samples of every color in your hand and ask yourself whether you would wear them all on one occasion. If you wouldn't, don't ask your room to do it either!

Virginia Motor Courts Add Accommodations for Million

North to the South finds large concentration of well appointed courts in Virginia. With the exception of Florida, the Virginia court facilities are by far the finest in the East. Every consideration is given to the comfort and convenience of the guest. Heating plants are the most modern in existence, including base panel, radiant and convective type radiation. Many rooms have thermostats for individual control. Thousands of units are now air conditioned for constant temperature the year around. Full tub and showers with ceramic tile on floor and walls of the bath greet the visitor every where. Decorators have been busy full way by the court owners to make each room a symphony of color and comfort.

Safety and sanitation are also paramount factors in motor court operation in the Old Dominion. Brick, stone, steel and aluminum, with concrete and cinder blocks, form the basic material for today's motor court. They are as nearly fireproof and burglar proof as it is possible to make them. Heating and cooling devices are all of approved types. The visitor to Virginia is insured a high de-

Posters Aid Buyer OPS Declares

OPS reminds consumers that the new official OPS posters for service establishments make it easier for them to cooperate in the price stabilization program. The new method of listing prices replaces varied methods which service businesses have been using. The poster contains 20 lines on which each shop lists its principal services and their ceiling prices. These posters point out that the prices listed are the "highest prices which may be lawfully charged."

There appear to be fairly large supplies of dwarf lima beans, muskadee, pole lima beans, hybrid sweet corn, spinach, dwarf green beans, cauliflower, cucumbers and summer squash. Dr. Martin listed possible shortages in dwarf horticultural green beans, improved kidney and sure crop dwarf wax beans, late growing varieties of broccoli, lettuce and giant fardhook.

VEGETABLE SEED SUPPLY APPEARS ADEQUATE, ECONOMIST DECLARES

An adequate supply of most vegetable seeds for 1963 is forecast by Dr. J. L. Martin, agricultural economist at VPI. He points to a possible shortage in some seeds, and for some varieties, and suggests that commercial vegetable producers place orders with dealers now for seeds indicated as being in short supply.

A survey of seed dealers indicates a shortage of cabbage, lima beans, collard, celery, eggplant, dwarf wax beans, radish and fardhook.

Changes in Taxes To be Discussed

Changes in the income tax laws on withholding and allocation of savings and other income of cooperatives will be discussed at two meetings in Virginia in December.

Dr. Paul D. Saunders, Richmond, president of the Agricultural Conference Board of Virginia, meets with the VPI Agricultural Extension Service will sponsor the meetings, says co-op representatives will have an opportunity to get answers to many complex questions on the tax laws.

Edward Street, attorney, Richmond Bank for Cooperatives, Richmond speakers will be: L. S. Hubert, legal consultant, American Institute of Cooperation, Washington, D. C.; James R. Ayers Jr., general counsel, Southern States Cooperative, Inc., Richmond; John C. Goodin, supervisor of organizations, Division of Markets, Virginia, Richmond.

Christmas Saving Plan Proposed To Cut Down Holiday Accidents

The National Safety Council has announced a nationwide Christmas savings plan to stop accidents.

"If every American will join this savings plan before the Christmas holidays, a real public bonus human life will be paid," said Fred H. Dearborn, Council president.

The campaign has been joined by more than 100 national organizations, and by city and state public officials and civic leaders. They will unite in creating an awareness of the special holiday hazards, and will call for voluntary cooperation from every American to hold accidents to a minimum this Christmas.

The year-end holiday season is the most dangerous period of the year, Mr. Dearborn said, and accidents annually mar the celebration in thousands of homes. Traffic accidents alone on Christmas Eve and Christmas day are about twice as high as the annual daily average.

"This year, with the holiday consisting of four days for many persons, the toll could be even higher than the 251 traffic deaths reported during the four-day Christmas weekend last year," Dearborn warned.

"Travel is especially heavy over long holidays, which encourage traditional family get-togethers, even when the members must drive considerable distance," he said. "The festive spirit of the season, plus the normal winter hazards of bad weather, slippery roads and longer periods of darkness create added dangers."

1. For a safe and merry Christmas, the National Safety Council suggests these precautions:
2. Driving or walking, pass the Christmas spirit of "good will toward men" into practical use by being extra cautious to observe and take your time!
3. If streets are icy or slippery, keep your speed down and your caution up.
4. If you make Christmas spirit in liquid form, stay away from the steering wheel of a car.
5. Avoid home hazards, too. Do not use candles, be sure tree lights and wires are in good condition and keep wrappings away from the fireplace or other source of heat.

Post Office in High Gear As Xmas Nears

Postmaster Howard S. Myers said today that Post Office employees have shifted into high gear, as the volume of Christmas mail is mounting sharply.

"Where before it was uneven and unpredictable," he explained, "the packages and Christmas cards are now arriving in a steady flow. This coming weekend is especially critical."

By "critical" the postmaster means that delivery of parcel post by Christmas cannot be guaranteed after this week. He recommends you "use Air Parcel Post for gifts mailed out-of-town at a later date."

Christmas cards going out-of-town should be mailed this week. Time for local delivery at least a week before Christmas.

Postmaster Myers points out that thousands of packages are now enroute from all 48 states. They will create an even greater strain on local post office facilities. However, as many daily deliveries as are necessary will be made between now and December 25.

In some locations around-the-clock service is now available. But a sudden storm can delay the Christmas mail to and from any part of the United States.

Consequently, the postmaster urges you to forward everything at once. Mail your packages two or three at a time. Tie your Christmas cards in two bundles, and attach labels marked "All For Local Delivery" or "All For Out-of-Town Delivery."

Stamp and parcel post window open 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. through December 24.

SET RECORD IN SALES CONTEST

Here are the members of the Virginia Beach High School class that set a record among schools in Virginia when they raised a total of $1,231.95 in the magazine subscription contest with their teacher, Miss Katherine Massey.

S. Claus Sets Up Headquarters At Beach; To Visit Retail Stores

The Chamber of Commerce retail committee has announced that Santa has set up headquarters at Virginia Beach and will be available from time to time at many of the retail stores until Christmas Eve, according to W. C. Herrell, committee chairman.

With the lighting of the Beach area nearly completed, committee members are concentrating on other phases of the Christmas program which include a community wide Shoppers' Contest and a Store Decorating Contest. A three man judging committee consisting of Laura Lamb, artist and advertising specialist; Rev. Edmund Berkeley, pastor of Calvary Episcopal Church; and Principal James A. Johnson Jr. of the Virginia Beach High School, have agreed to serve as an impartial lay committee to judge the store decorations committee, and every effort to have stores decorate in the true Christmas spirit is being made. More than thirty stores have entered the competition.

Merchants in the overall Christmas program number over 60 and several more have indicated they expect to contribute their efforts of funds before the Christmas shopping season closes. An extensive advertising program is also being carried out to attract shoppers to the Virginia Beach area.

Each settlement has been displayed over the Christmas Shoppers Contest which now has 30 stores participating. Chairman M. F. Camp reported that over 100,000 tickets have been sold.

YOU CAN BE REAL SANTA

Christmas is just around the corner and the Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach Joy Fund is receiving quite a number of urgent calls for assistance, in the way of food, clothing and toys. Please send or take your discarded clothing, both adult and children's, and toys to the Virginia Beach Fire Department. Financial contributions can be made to the two local newspapers.

$1,200 Stolen at Paper Office

A thief or thieves broke into the office of Norfolk Newspapers, Inc. at 2111 Atlantic Avenue sometime Tuesday night and walked off with $1,200 in cash and bonds.

All of the money was in small denominations and was money collected from the carrier boys, Ralph T. Mills, circulation manager, made the discovery.

Jaycee Show on Deck Next Week

Local Jaycees urge the public to come out and support the Joy Fund while enjoying an evening of fun at the Jaycee Joy Fund Jubilee Thursday, December 18, at the Virginia Beach High School at 8 p. m. Price of admission is a can of food or a new toy.

Mrs. Fern Salmon will be in charge of music and act as advisor on production. Mrs. Salmon advanced the idea last year and the Jaycees thought so well of it they decided to sponsor the project.

Hit Scored by Little Theatre

The Virginia Beach Little Theatre's second play, a suspense drama, met with high praise on opening night and its second night run.

The color coordination of set and costumes, the sound effects and lighting were as smooth as the play itself.

Mrs. Robert Wainwright, as Sally, the second Mrs. Carroll, gave a gifted performance to a pretty play with a sinister plot. A most difficult vehicle for an amateur group, the play showed almost professional handling in its intense emotional scenes.

Condr. James Ellison as Mr. Carroll carried his role with finesse and convincing portrayal. The audience was impressed with Mrs. J. W. Sills' easy flow of French as the French maid and unaware that this role was given Mrs. Sills on short notice after Heuricte des Rosier was forced to drop out due to an illness in her family.

The other roles were equal in performance: Mrs. Joseph LaGrella as the first Mrs. Carroll, Connie Little as Gelly, Angie Alexander as the doctor, Mrs. Claude Brownley as Mrs. Latham, L. George Sneider as Denis Pennington.

According to a critic in the audience, the local theatre group showed impressive ability in their successful performance of so difficult a play.

Harvey H. Bundy, of Boston, brother of Nathan H. Bundy, 51st Street, Virginia Beach, has been elected chairman and trustee of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. It was learned this week.

Bundy succeeds John Foster Dulles, recently named Secretary of State in the Eisenhower cabinet, in the important post. Bundy is a lawyer and has served as Assistant Secretary of State and was a special assistant to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. He has served as chairman for the Red Cross in England.

Nathan Bundy is a well known business and civic leader in Virginia and has resided in North Virginia Beach for several years.

Quick Action Needed in Joy Fund Drive

"Unless residents of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County open up their pockets as soon as their hearts, there will be many bleak Christmas nights this year," a spokesman for the Joy Fund opined this week.

With less than two weeks to make contributions, the Joy fund is growing slowly. A sudden spurt in contributions is evidenced, there will not be enough funds to adequately take care of the needy.

Contributions are being received by the two local newspapers and toys are being collected by the Virginia Beach Fire Department. Clothing is being donated by the Junior Woman's Club and the Department of Welfare at Princess Anne.

A dance is being held next Saturday night with the proceeds going to the Joy Fund. Contributions are being accepted until 5 p. m. on Saturday.

Beach Sports Club Honors Gridders

Virginia Beach Sports Club will honor the local high school football team by giving them a trip to Washington, Sunday, to see the Redskins-Eagles game.

A special bus will leave from the high school early Sunday morning with 30 footballers, their coach Fred Isaacs, Principal James A. Johnson Jr., and several Sports Club members.

The game will be the Redskins' annual Christmas festivity. Santa Claus will arrive by helicopter. John Doyle Jr. has been the chairman for this affair for the Sports Club.

OPS has suspended price controls on soft drinks because the intense competition of the industry, coupled with a tendency for volume to decline when there are increases in selling prices, apparently has prevented any general price increases.

VANDALS AT WORK

While a community diligently works to rehabilitate its greatest asset, there are some among its citizens who would retard and halt the progress being made. The latest example of such a citizen, or group of citizens, has come to light this week from the first repairing and rehabilitating Virginia Beach's seawall and walkway, in the rehabilitation that equipment being used in the work is being tampered with and damaged during the night-time hours.

The damage to equipment and resultant slow down of the work has reached such alarming proportions that special police protection is necessary, and the contracting firm has offered a $1000 reward for the apprehension of the guilty party, or parties.

The cost in dollars and cents from such actions is one thing to be considered, but more important is the cost to the community in completing the job which will restore to Virginia Beach its world-renowned asset, a long, wide, sandy beach and a concrete promenade carried by many resorts and frequented by tens of thousands.

Those guilty of the depredations cannot have the interest of the community at heart, and certainly are not confident, we believe, of the seriousness of the crime. Over and over all the acts already committed place an extra and unnecessary burden on the personnel of our police department, a force that is already taxed to the limit in policing this prosperous, growing community.

THE NEED IS NOW

If there is ever a season of the year when we should lend assistance to those who need help, it is at the Christmas season. There is never a time when help means so much and brings so much joy and happiness to the less fortunate. The annual Key Fund in Virginia Beach, if furnished the necessary funds, is the one agency in our community which deserves the support of everyone who is able to contribute.

The time is growing short and the pleasure which this fund gives can only be accomplished on Christmas Day. The Key Fund workers are all volunteers, and their one desire is to make as many persons happy as possible.

There are now less than two weeks remaining to make contributions to this most worthy cause. We urge our readers to mail in their checks so that this will be a merry Christmas for all. DON'T WAIT. CONTRIBUTE TODAY.

ECONOMIC HIGH WATERS

The embittered, high-powered campaigning that marked the closing weeks of the Presidential race largely drove from the headlines many a news story of long-pull significance—even as it diverted public attention from developments of top importance to the entire world. High of this list have been the course of the cold war and the status of the hot war in Korea.

Certain facts seem to be self-evident. First, the idea, which was hopefully held some time ago in various quarters, that the Soviet Union wished to come to some sort of reasonable terms with the United States, no longer has credence. It is clear that the only terms in which the Politburo is interested are those which would work 100 per cent to Russia's advantage. In his last major speech, before the U. N. General Assembly, Malenkov followed the standard Soviet line for well over an hour, accusing this country of practically every crime in the calendar, including the germ warfare charge, and the assertion that the Korean war was being deliberately prolonged so as to profit American billionaires who lust for blood money.

Second, current Soviet strategy has as its basic aim the splitting of the Western powers, to be followed ultimately by the isolation of the United States. This certainly isn't a new technique, but the work is being intensified. Soviet officials are being very polite these days to certain of the Western nations—particularly those in which there are substantial anti-American blocs, and in which the governments are something less than stalwart in their allegiances. The officials are trying hard to sell the idea that Russia has no designs on these nations, and wants to be friends.

Third, Russia is going all out to strengthen and harden her agents and sympathizers in the Western countries, with special emphasis on the U. S. The American Communist party has in large part gone underground. It is reported that membership requirements have been greatly stiffened—no weak sisters are wanted. It is also reported that Russia's system of selecting her foreign agents is really in high gear. The bureaucracy is an extensive one, including everything from propaganda techniques to how to sabotage industrial plants, power and rail systems, and other key installations.

Fourth, the problem of what to do about Communists in our government is more crucial than ever. The testimony of General Walter Bedell Smith, head of our top intelligence agency, in this regard was most revealing. General Smith, an extremely able officer who was Eisenhower's chief-of-staff during World War II and afterwards ambassador to Russia, said that Communists had wormed their way into important places in his agency and elsewhere. Also revealing is the charge of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that American Communists have gained key positions in the United Nations secretariat.

OPPOSES RESOLUTION

3300 Shore Drive
Norfolk 3, Va.
Dec. 6, 1952

The Editor
Virginia Beach Sun-News

Dear Sir:

As president of the Shore Drive Home Demonstration Club, I wish to tell you for my members and myself that we, as a body, are opposed to the resolution passed by your Board, at your last meeting, that Jane Craig be replaced as Home Demonstrator of Princess Anne County.

We, as club members, want to know the following:

1. The facts against Jane Craig.
2. Why was not Jane Craig at that meeting? And, in all fairness, given a chance to give her side of the case?
3. We want to know who the women were who were present at that meeting.
4. Why was the press allowed to leave before the meeting was ended? We know that the press had left when this resolution was voted on.

We feel that a letter sent to Blacksburg, without having given Jane Craig a chance to state her side, was a most undemocratic thing for your Board to do.

And, believe me, if we lose Jane Craig and possibly our Home Demonstration club in the county we will not forget.

The women's votes put Ike in and they can also take out supervisors.

Sincerely,
MRS. C. F. LAMBERT,
President Shore Drive Home Demonstration Club.

A copy of the above letter has been sent to each one of the following supervisors of Princess Anne County:
B. J. Herrick, Kempsville District.
Kenneth N. Whitehead, Pungo District.
Louis Parsons, Blackwater District.
F. Paul Brown, chairman, Sea-board District.
Frederic T. Deary, Lynnhaven District.

Mark Twain and Chauncey M. Depew were both on the ship when it was hit by a few days out they were both invited to a dinner, and when speech making time came, Mark Twain had the first chance. He spoke twenty minutes and made a great hit. Then it was Mr. Depew's turn.

"Mr. Townsman and Ladies and Gentlemen," said the famous orator as he rose. "Before this dinner Mark Twain and myself made an agreement to trade speeches. He has just delivered his speech, and I thank you for the pleasant manner in which you received it. I regret to say that I have lost the notes of his speech and cannot remember anything he was to say."

Then he sat down, and there was much laughter.

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

WHY WORRY?

Harold T. Prout, Concord, N. H., was in the army when his first child was born, so was not on hand to do any worrying. But when his second child put in an appearance he was much in evidence, and as it turned out, was quite unnecessarily on the scene. His wife awakened at 7:30 on this particular morning and said, "Hal, this is the big day; call the doctor and get me to the hospital quickly."

When she said this, Harold jumped out over the end of the bed in one leap and nearly knocked over the dresser while in flight. He began running around in circles looking for his clothes while his wife began quietly and slowly dressing herself with no fuss at all. He was very excited and his breath came in short gasps as he packed clothing in her suitcase and sent their little boy next door to a neighbor's house. He urged his wife to hurry; what if the baby came suddenly and only he in attendance.

Then, what if his car didn't start this morning of all mornings? Oh, Lord! Could a cab get here in time for the trip? Would she get to the hospital in time? What if the baby was born in the car before they reached the hospital? What should he do? And all during this worrying time his wife did nothing at all to help him—just patiently watching him go nuts!

He hurried her out to the car only to find that in his haste he had forgotten the car keys. He had to climb back in through the kitchen window to get them. Then, of course, they rushed to the hospital where experts calmly took her in charge, and left him standing in the corridor in a daze.

Was there enough time? Sure. Two extra hours, as it turned out later. Also it turned out later that he had packed in her suitcase his shaving kit and underwear with only a few of his wife's belongings.

Much later he sat down and thought about this episode and discovered that none of the things he had worried about had happened.

Ideas from other editors

From the Koszuth County Advocate, Algona, Iowa:

There's real tragedy to the shooting of the successful sutor by the discarded swain in the Cedar Rapids case.

It's tragedy of youth, made even more tragic by the extreme youthfulness of the triangle involved.

For all its vaunted glory, the "time of youth is not a happy age. It is filled with infinite emotions and desires. The veneer of civilization is thin, and the throw-back to the primeval beast is not far away from the surface of any youngster.

These teenagers are neither adults nor children—they are not quite a full human being with a rut of living to run in.

They have not had the experience of living to tell them there is nothing entirely irreplaceable in this world—that what is lost is not perhaps the worst thing that can happen.

They do not know that old adage—if you miss one streetcar, be patient, another will be along soon.

They have not yearned yet that they must also think of others. They are childish in that their thoughts are violently centered on themselves, and that their wants are the only things that matter.

They have not learned the wisdom of age that says—do what? A boy is dead. Another is a murderer. And a girl will never forget the terror of that night. That's a tragedy of youth.

THE FACT
By James Lee Yates

Does the devil ever visit you in your own image?

If he does, you may entertain the horrible suspicion that you look like the devil—literally. That's how my friend Wilfred Dongett looks. He cured with an extraordinary conscience and a robust, energetic virtue, suffers regular visitations from Satan. Wilfred swears that Satan has all the legendary accoutrements of the devil, including tail and cloven hoof, except the diabolical and sinister countenance. Instead Satan wears Wilfred's placid and smiling features. "On him it don't look good," sighs Wilfred. "You can get the same effect by looking at yourself in the mirror."

Wilfred confesses that Satan makes himself at home around the Dongett residence—except where Miss Dongett is nearby—and seems to be just as chaffing as Wilfred himself. Satan likes to do his bedeviling laboratory and is apt to perch upon Wilfred's easy chair and newspaper. He sits long hours reading and chuckling with satisfaction at all the murders and political shenanigans. This leaves Wilfred nothing to do but sit rigidly in a hard chair opposite Satan and watch his hair shooting away flies. Sometimes Miss Dongett enters the room and shoots the devil away with her presence. "She's a little bit frightening," whispers Wilfred, "even to a fellow used to hell."

Wilfred thinks that if Satan weren't as shiftless as Wilfred himself he'd work a little harder at being a devil. Satan never tries to terrify Wilfred, never attempts to drag him off or flay him alive. He just hangs around, making Wilfred uneasy by his amazing likeness to Wilfred.

"He never scolds me for my sins," complains Wilfred, "or offers me any interesting temptations. He probably knows every sin in the book, but he's awfully stingy with them—curse him! Altogether, he's a very boring lot."

I agree with Wilfred. Here lately, it seems, the devil has become pretty weak medicine.

I remember when my mother wore poppers. We call them house poppers now. And she made Buttons face to trim our paper napkins. We went for Sunday afternoon drives in the surrey with the fringe around it.

I've interested a number of dentists only to find his efforts without success. They have come, looked around, and even entered into preliminary contract, only to depart for other fields. The Lions Club reports no better success.

And this, mind you, in a village that a few years back supported dentists, and a territory larger than that enjoyed by many other locations, and a territory, moreover, that has a backbone of dairying to insure no fluctuations in income.

It would seem that a young dentist just starting his career could find no better location. Or they think that the bright city lights sharpen their instruments and intellect? Or do they have too little confidence to start on their own?

But this is no virgin field; they could step into a lucrative practice. They would find pleasant living conditions and a friendly community. Why do they hesitate?

MOOSE WILL CELEBRATE FIFTY-THIRD ANNIVERSARY HERE

Members of the local Moose lodge will have a quadruple celebration on December 14, 1952, marking the 53rd anniversary of the first meeting of the lodge, which was formed in 1899 with 197 charter members. The local Moose group has a busy year.

In addition to celebrating its birthday, the local Moose will also join with other lodges throughout the nation in celebrating the organization's 60th anniversary.

At the same time, December 14, the 50th anniversary of the formation of the Moose City at New York, N. Y., the local Moose lodge will also join with other lodges throughout the nation in celebrating the organization's 60th anniversary.

The local Moose lodge has grown from a membership of 197 to 310 members this month.

A tremendous growth, and the lodge is engaged in by the local Moose lodge.

Members of the number are members.

grave. This is borne out by the work done at Mooseheart and Moosehaven.

Mooseheart is the organization's city in Illinois for orphans of Moose members and Moosehaven in Florida is the home for aged members and their wives.

Mooseheart not only cares for children of deceased members, but also the mothers so that child and mother will not be separated.

The city offers many vocations for the children.

The Virginia Beach lodge has sponsored many projects during its first year and has been one of the more active groups in the community.

Some of the projects undertaken by local Moose include sponsorship of a March of Dimes dance, a softball team, lighter bikes campaign, and many dances for various handicaps.

At the same time, December 14, the 50th anniversary of the formation of the Moose City at New York, N. Y., the local Moose lodge will also join with other lodges throughout the nation in celebrating the organization's 60th anniversary.

The local Moose lodge has grown from a membership of 197 to 310 members this month.

A tremendous growth, and the lodge is engaged in by the local Moose lodge.

Members of the number are members.

grave. This is borne out by the work done at Mooseheart and Moosehaven.

Mooseheart is the organization's city in Illinois for orphans of Moose members and Moosehaven in Florida is the home for aged members and their wives.

Mooseheart not only cares for children of deceased members, but also the mothers so that child and mother will not be separated.

The city offers many vocations for the children.

New Regulations On Vet Homes

Veterans Administration has announced that minimum property requirements are now in effect on all new construction to be purchased with the aid of VA guaranteed or insured loans.

Public Law 566 (Korean GI Bill) directed that such property must meet or exceed minimum requirements for planning and construction and general acceptability if constructed after September 14, 1952.

This provision, VA reported, does not apply to homes which are completed at least a year before they are purchased with GI loans.

VA minimum construction requirements, to assure veterans' number construction, have been mandatory since 1950. However, under the law VA's minimum requirements for planning and general acceptability were not mandatory until the enactment of the Korean GI Bill, VA said.

Coupled with minimum construction requirements, VA's code for land planning and general acceptability will be known as VA Minimum Property Requirements.

VA's requirements for general acceptability are planned to encourage the design of dwelling units which will provide living facilities commonly considered desirable in the locality.

Small items as room size, storage space, lighting, ventilation, bathroom, utility and heater rooms, safety and privacy are considered under general acceptability.

Land planning requirements are designed to encourage the development of new neighborhoods as located and planned as to provide reasonable standards of comfort, attractive surroundings for the occupants, and a continuing desirability for residential purposes.

Q—I've just been discharged from service and I plan to apply for Korean term insurance within 30 days of my discharge. Is an application sufficient, or must I also pay a monthly premium?

A—An application alone would not be sufficient. You also must pay the required first premium before the 120-day deadline.

Q—Is there any priority system for entering a VA hospital?

A—Yes. Veterans who need treatment for service-connected disabilities have priority over those who require hospitalization for non-service-connected conditions. Veterans in the latter category, if not emergency cases, must wait for a bed to become available and must swear that they are unable to afford private treatment elsewhere.

Changes Made In Navy Rental Agreements

In a move to reduce hardship on Navy personnel being transferred to new duty stations, a revised agreement has been revised to permit dependents of transferred personnel to vacate at the discretion of the commanding officer. Under the revised contract, the determination of notice to vacate is also left to the commanding officer.

The amended agreement will require payment for damage to housing property only if the damage is deliberate or occurs through negligence of the tenant.

Dollars and cents benefits also will be realized by tenants moving into housing after the first of the month. Previously, a full month's rent was charged for the first month. Under the new agreement, the tenant will pay only for the remaining days of the month.

The revisions are based upon recommendations made by Naval housing tenants, most of them married personnel of the Navy and Marine Corps, during the past year. Navy housing projects are operated by the Bureau of Yards and Docks.

The revised contract agreements apply to all rental units not built with appropriated funds under the Lend-Lease act. They include Navy-owned trailers, homes (quonset) housing, dormitories, defense and interim housing.

Christmas Rose Young Girl's Gift

The Christmas rose blooms in an unusual season, from December to March, with white, sometimes pinky colored blossoms. Because of the soft tinge of pink, the flower has been given the name Christmas rose.

Legend tells us that when the wise men were journeying toward Bethlehem, they came upon a young girl who was tending her sheep. The girl complained to an angel that she had no gift for the Holy Child, wherever the entire pathway to Bethlehem was flowered with glistening white Christmas roses.

Madeleine, the girl, offered the flowers, and when the fingers of Jesus touched them they became suffused with pink.

Plans Being Made To Expand The Facilities at Norfolk Naval Base

Facilities for Naval vessels and personnel using the Norfolk Naval Base will be expanded under plans being developed by Navy civil engineers. Approximately $1,000,000 was appropriated by Congress for the construction program.

The largest of three projects on which construction will begin early next year will be the construction of a new ammunition barge mooring. Another project calls for construction of an ammunition barge mooring. The construction of fleet landing facilities at Hampton Roads is the third project.

The additional berthing space for the base at Norfolk will be accomplished by the construction of a new concrete pier, 561x250 feet.

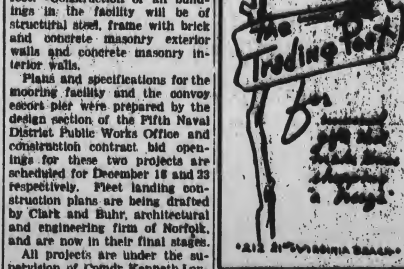

Construction of the mooring facilities will be a safety measure. Weather conditions and ship schedules often interrupt loading of ammunition. To protect the barges loaded with explosives, a structure of steel and reinforced concrete will be built in Hampton Roads between Pig Point and Newport News, the existing ammunition area for explosives. It will accommodate 20 barges and will protect their ammunition loads at all times. The structure was recommended by the Armed Services Explosive Safety Board. The facility will provide twoopers (two) with backwash. Fire protection will be installed.

The fleet landing pier will provide additional accommodations for the increased personnel of the operating forces in the Hampton Roads area.

The work will include the renovation of landing floats and the lengthening and strengthening of the marginal wharf and concrete apron to the floats. A two-story building, 80x120 feet, will provide living facilities, brig, canteen and beachmaster's office on the first deck and rest, rooms and a dispatcher's office on the second deck. The officers' waiting room will be a one-story structure 25x40 feet. Construction of all buildings in the facility will be of structural steel, frame with brick and concrete masonry exterior walls and concrete masonry interior walls.

Plans and specifications for the mooring facility and the conveyor pier were prepared by the design section of the Fifth Naval District Public Works Office and construction contract bid openings for these two projects are scheduled for December 18 and 23 respectively. Fleet landing construction plans are being drafted by Clark and Buhr, architectural and engineering firm of Norfolk, and are now in their final stages.

All projects are under the supervision of Comdr Kenneth Lov-

Hyperension "Modern Day" Ailment, Claim

Diagnosis of the circulatory system and of the heart, are the number one menace to human life today. Among them, hypertension, commonly known as high blood pressure, is most frequently diagnosed by physicians. At this moment, there are about 1,000,000 Americans with hypertension so severe that they are in need of medical help.

Many physicians believe that the fast pace, and pressures of modern life, with all its activities, contribute to the development of the disease, by causing a dramatic increase in artery-constricting nerve impulses. Surgeons developed a nerve cutting operation, called a sympathectomy, to stop these impulses from reaching the blood vessels. It is not always successful, too drastic for many patients, and irreversible.

But now Methium chloride, a new drug in tablet form, has been found to have the dangerous nerve impulses and to lower blood pressure in a majority of patients. It is made by Ortho Laboratories of Morris Plains, New Jersey, a division of Warner-Medical.

According to doctors, the drug's action controls high blood pressure in 70 to 80 per cent of the patients treated, after bringing pressure down to normal or near normal levels. The compound is potent and should be used only under a doctor's supervision.

Methium has helped thousands of hypertensives to resume active living and has become an effective weapon against America's number one killer.

EVENTS OF INTEREST TO 4-H CLUBBERS ANNOUNCED BY STATE OFFICE AT VPI

Events of interest to Virginia's 4-H club members for 1953 have been announced by the state 4-H office at VPI.

Included are: National 4-H Club week, March 7-15; rural life Sunday, May 10; Virginia Chapter of 4-H state conference, June 18-21, at VPI; 4-H short course, June 28-31, VPI; state farm and home club congress, September 3-4, Richmond.

Four-H officials opened the short course as one of the highlights of the year. At that time, winners of state contests are announced and awards given. Over 1,000 club members attend the event annually.

State officials feel that high-powered rifles are more dangerous than shotguns. Quinn did not state whether or not he felt that these rifles were more dangerous, but he did present the following facts from which conclusions could possibly be drawn:

"Last year, according to records of the Game Commission, there were only two fatal accidents resulting from the use of rifles, with 500,000 rounds in the field. One of these fatalities was from a high-powered rifle, and one from a 25 calibre rifle. There were three non-fatal accidents caused by rifles, one of them known to have been high-powered. All rifle accidents occurred at the mountain counties west of the Blue Ridge."

There was only one fatal accident west of the Blue Ridge, whereas, in eastern counties, there were eight fatal accidents and five non-fatal accidents resulting from shotguns.

Welfare Payment Shows Effects of Federal Increase

Public assistance payments in Virginia are beginning to show the effects of increased Federal ceilings in matching funds, according to the monthly statistical report of the Department of Welfare and Institutions.

Total welfare expenditures for October rose $30,000 over September, as additional Federal funds became available to local welfare departments to meet assistance payments to the State's needy. Under recent amendments to the Social Security Act, Federal matching ceilings were raised from $60 to $65 for old age assistance and aid to the permanently and totally disabled, and from $27 to $30 for the first child and $10 to $21 for other children in families on aid to dependent children. These increases enable local welfare departments to meet a higher percentage of need, with increased state and local appropriations.

OVER 700 SHOOTING COMPETITION HELD IN VIRGINIA BEACH

Several Virginia counties have recently passed the question of the advisability of prohibiting the use of high-powered rifles in the hunting of big game. I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Game Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, reports.

Pauline Harris captivated her audience with several classical dance numbers. Allen Brennan, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan Dudley, rendered three solos, "Water Boy," "White Christmas," and "Silent Night."

Conservation Head Addresses Norfolk Club

Through conservation we are trying to make Virginia a better place in which to live, a better place in which to enjoy our life," said Sidney S. Kellum, director of the State Department of Conservation, in a talk to the Garden Club of Norfolk, early this week.

It was his principal speaker on the club's program at a luncheon held in the home of Mrs. Oscar F. Smith in Lockhaven. Mrs. Harry A. Thompson served as co-hostess. Kellum was presented by Mrs. N. Montgomery Ochs.

It was announced that the Southeastern Zone meeting of the Garden Club of America would be held in Richmond January 21 and 22.

Future Dim For Small Dairy Farms

Small dairy farms, limited to a herd of 10 to 20 cows, have a dim future in the belief of Dr. F. Morgan Jr., associate agricultural economist at VPI. The economist in a rapid increase in efficiency as the land also increases through the range of 20, 30, and 40-cow herds, and up to 50 cows. Beyond that size, efficiency levels off.

He says bulk handling of milk, mechanized milking, and other labor-saving techniques will be used more as the labor situation tightens. Bulk handling of all dairy feed has possibilities. Such changes are expected to cause a further increase in capital requirements for dairying in 1953.

TR Treatment Advances Xmas Seal Sales Factor

Expanded services in health, education, cost-cutting, medical research, and rehabilitation will be featured in the Xmas Seal Sale.

Mr. Lusk spoke of the studies which have been made in the 47 states where the Xmas Seal Sale is being conducted. He pointed out that the first sale of seals, in 1947, produced $100,000 for the National Tuberculosis Association.

He said that the capital investment in long as it increases the output per man at reasonable cost, it is an advice. Morgan points out that efficiency in dairying has not progressed as much as many other types of farming. An unpublished study based on one of Virginia's leading dairy areas shows that production per cow is below standards from which a reasonable profit can be expected. Studies also conclude that by adopting modern techniques dairymen could reduce costs of producing 100 pounds of milk by 25 to 50 per cent.

You are looking into the mouth of a 16-inch gun on the U.S.S. New Jersey

It's typical of the huge ships with which our great navy bristles. And the size of that bore is a comforting reminder that America's watchdogs have a bite as bad as their bark.

This represents one kind of strength America must maintain in order to keep the restless peace. For surely we all realize that now peace is only for the strong.

And that's where you can help... by buying United States Defense Bonds! For by bonds and other forms of saving you are building up a personal backlog of financial security which means economic strength for our country.

Saving through bond buying is easier than you think! Try it—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. With this Plan you can save a regular sum out of every check—before you have a chance to spend it.

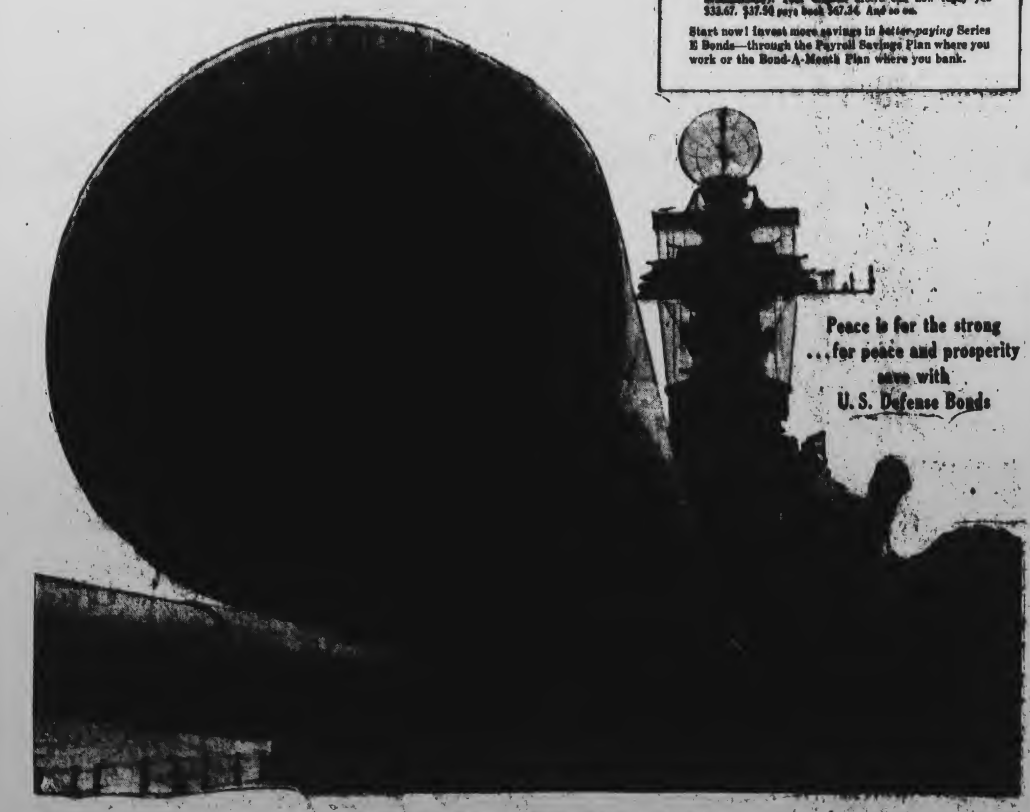

And, you know, no matter how small your income, you can't afford not to save something for yourself. So join the Plan today. Thousands say it's the one sure way to save!

HERE'S HOW A BOND CAN SAVE YOUR MONEY

Now safe, pure U. S. Series E Defense Bonds pay an even better return than ever before... thanks to 3 brand-new money-earning features just announced by the U. S. Treasury.

- Now every Series E Bond you buy begins earning interest after only 6 months. It keeps 7% compounded semiannually, when held to maturity. It reaches full maturity value earlier (9 years 6 months) and the interest it pays is now bigger at the start!
- Every Series E Bond you own can now go on earning interest for 10 more years after it reaches the original maturity date—without your lifting a finger!
- During the 10-year extension period, every unretired bond earns at the new, higher interest (average 3% compounded semiannually). Your original $100.00 can now reach you $332.67, $37.94 more than $300.00. And so on.

Start now! Invest more savings in better-paying Series E Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

Peace is for the strong... for peace and prosperity save with U.S. Defense Bonds

Boy Colony Garden Club Active Support of Local Beautification

Members of the Boy Colony Garden Club, at its meeting Wednesday at Princess Anne Country Club, unanimously voted to contribute $500 to the Council of Garden Clubs. This represents the cost of planting and beautifying an entire block on North Atlantic avenue.

Mrs. Gilmore Tibbott, president of the Council of Garden Clubs, outlined the plans of the Council in beautifying Atlantic avenue from Port Story to 40th street. She stressed the importance and immediate need of funds to complete the undertaking in one operation, since the cost of again bringing the expensive equipment and crew of workmen to this area would result in an additional enormous expense to the Council of Garden Clubs and the state.

Many civic groups, of course, are active in beautification. It is a common-sense idea, and it is a common-sense idea to have a group active and to be able to complete the project. The Boy Colony Garden Club, still in its infancy, organized about three years ago with but three members, and while its members are enthusiastic in making floral arrangements and covering exhibits in show, but, at its club,

Armed Forces Institute Makes Plans For Observance of 11th Anniversary Dec. 24

USAFI has a campus which straddles the globe and stretches across the turbulent swirls of the news seas. Its classrooms wander with its students, setting up shop whenever and wherever there is a bright light for study. No little red school, this alone stands to thousands of servicemen in this country and in foreign lands.

More correctly known as the United States Armed Forces Institute, USAFI will soon celebrate its 11th birthday. Yet, what it lacks in hallowed traditions and ivy-covered sentimentality it more than makes up for in solid, progressive educational spirit and methods geared to the split-second world which has given it birth.

Founded December 24, 1941, USAFI was to prove a boon to men of all the services. It was, in fact, a Christmas present that has been steadily increasing in value. The school was originally meant to serve only the Army and began with that intention the following April. Soon after its establishment, though, the Secretary of the Navy expressed interest in the program and suggested Navy participation. Eventually the Institute opened its books to all service personnel on active duty and began to function on a world-wide basis.

Having served its students during the Second World War and the militant peacetime which has followed, USAFI has solved its growing pains and settled down to the task of providing a continuing program of education on all levels. The school operates entirely by mail and has facilities for both individual and group study. Courses are available that cover the most basic fundamentals of a grammar school education and there are others that include the most intricate and technical subjects imaginable. No field is neglected and the individual student can complete his formal education or else take random subjects of personal interest.

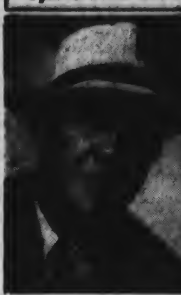

Some USAFI courses are of the correspondence type in which lessons are done periodically and a test administered to show the student's progress in his work. Others are self-teaching in nature.

and do not require the submission of lessons. In this type of course the material provided may include study hints and methods of self-examination. End of course examinations are given to help the student correlate the material he has studied and to provide a criterion for judging the benefit derived from the course.

In addition to the more than a thousand courses offered by USAFI, there are many more available on the correspondence plan by 40 colleges and universities under contract with the government and cooperating with the Institute. Students who enroll for any of these courses pay special fees covering the administrative cost of enrollment, books and other materials. USAFI itself takes care of the lesson service fee for the correction and return of completed work. An initial fee of $2.50 entitles the serviceman to take any number of regular Institute courses without further cost.

The USAFI catalog now offers courses ranging from reading for beginners to Elements of the Differential and Integral Calculus. Mathematics, Foreign English and Spoken Korean are included and reflect the effects of travel upon the desires of the student. Establishing and Operating a Restaurant and Managing a Farm are subjects that prove the practicality and foresight of men planning ahead after their discharge.

Nearly all military installations have educational centers to serve the needs of the individual servicemen. Men who have been especially trained for that type of work provide educational advice and work with USAFI by enrolling students in the various courses. Group study courses are run through the education center (Continued on Page Two)

Land Excursion At Barbados To Feature Cruise

Land excursion plans at Barbados, the third part of call on this year's Virginia Cruise, were announced this week by the Virginia Cruise Corporation, non-profit civic group sponsoring the cruise.

Some 450 cruise passengers will make the 14-day cruise to the Caribbean and South America aboard the SS Maadom, which sails from Norfolk January 7. Cruise passengers will spend a day of sight seeing at the West Indian island which has been under the British flag since it was discovered in 1605.

The tour will start from Bridgetown, Barbados' principal port, go through poetry and basket markets, along the narrow streets to the District "A" Police Grounds. These arrangements have been made for a band concert and "Musical Ride" by members of the Barbados Mounted Police. This group is famous for the precision and color of its drills.

The cruise will arrive at Barbados at start of the sugar cane harvest and plans call for a visit to one of the island's large plantations. Today's mills are modern, but several of the old wind-mill powered mills are still in operation.

Of special interest to Virginians will be a visit to the house in which George Washington and his half brother, Lawrence, lived while visiting Barbados in 1751. The island is the only site outside the United States which Washington ever visited.

Another stop will be at Sam Lord's Castle, the most famous plantation on the island, and the scene of a "renegade control" pirate operation.

The tour will end in time for passengers to shop in Barbados' many markets.

Local Students in Xmas Concert

Featured this year will be the Christmas cantata, "The Heavenly Child," by Bernard Hiebman. The soloists are Miss Elizabeth Mason of Montrose, Miss Faith Grace of Burgess and Miss Evelyn Skinner of Hampton, N. J. Accompanist is Miss Constance Bennett of Washington, D. C. Lighting effects will be in charge of Miss Jacqueline Reese of Petersburg.

Among the freshmen members of the club are Miss Lavina Ballard of Norfolk, Miss Peggy Louise Wood of Princess Anne, Miss Agnes Aldridge of Virginia Beach and Miss Nanalou West of Olney.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
They'll Do It Every Time
You know where Hammy Jackson lives... on that small dead-end street off Maple Avenue near the library? Well, about a month ago, the town finally put up a sign on the corner there saying: "No through traffic... lived there."
Yesterday Hammy dropped by to see us. "Can't understand it," he says. "Hardly anybody drove down our street before—but, now, since they put that sign up, there's been more cars than ever turning around in my driveway."
From where I sit, these people who bother Hammy on his one-way street are the same as those who automatically ignore a Wet Paint sign and touch their finger on a freshly painted surface. But you can't change human nature. People like to find out for themselves—and then make their own decisions.
That's why I say "live and let live." You can drink your butter-milk, but let me have my glass of beer when I choose. And let's not feel we're obliged to "point the way" for the other fellow.

This little extra care helps give you and your neighbors better party-line service.

Bell Laboratories again is doing research on national defense equipment. Recently it developed a complex electronic control for guided missiles. The control system tracks enemy aircraft by radar. It feeds the information to a computing device which plots a course for the missile and guides it to its target. The telephone, while not as spectacular, is just as important an instrument of national defense. It aids production and it links civil defense and military installations.

GARDEN GAB

The old-fashioned flower beds, one of our favorite features, are concerned by the lack of it in this area, and we believe that with a little more care, it could be grown satisfactorily. One gardener we have brought a small bush from North Carolina and it is doing beautifully in her garden. Likes like their soil alkaline. Very loose all the way down, and deeply dug for extra good drainage and for their roots a wide run. Loosening of the soil may be increased by mixing in coarse sand and cinders. Old mortar or broken plaster put in the hole will add lime and help drainage. When planting add a quart of bonemeal to each wheelbarrow of good garden soil. Each spring scatter lime, agricultural or ground limestone, under the spread of the bush. Each fall give a double handful each of bonemeal and wood ashes. When the ground is cold switch with manure, which should be dug in lightly in the spring.

These plants should be shaded from the afternoon sun by a building or another shrub, but should not be planted under trees or the tree roots will take the moisture which the lilacs need.

Fall planting is best for this shrub, but it may be moved in late October, or when they have dropped their leaves, until late February.

Scale and borers are the two pests most apt to attack lilacs. Neither is too difficult to control, but you should keep a constant watch for them. Scale may be controlled by using a dormant oil spray every winter, and borers are

SANDERS-TROLLINGER VOWS EXCHANGED

The marriage of Miss Zetta Mae Trollinger, daughter of Mrs. M. Grace Trollinger and the late Edward Decker Trollinger Sr., to Harley Smith Sanders Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Smith Sanders, of Bayville, took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Episcopal Church of the Advent.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. W. Field, rector, in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with candles, palms, white gladioli, anemones and chrysanthemums. Mrs. John D. McMaster played the wedding music. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Edward Decker Trollinger Jr., wore a gown of white tulle and lace, fashioned with a sheer yoke of tulle, fitted lace bodice and long lace sleeves, ending in wedding peaks over the hands. The full gathered skirt formed a sweeping train. Her fingertip veil was arranged from a satin Queen Anne cap. She carried a white prayer-book topped with a white orchid and showered with lilacs of the valley.

Miss Elizabeth Trollinger was maid of honor. She wore a gown of rose velvet and tulle, with a matching tulle headpiece and mitts, and carried a hand bouquet of purple carnations and pink carnations, tied with purple ribbon. The bridesmaids were Misses Peggy Phelps, Edna Edmonds and Katie Edwards. They wore gowns of India purple velvet and tulle net, made like that of the honor attendant.

Harley Smith Sanders was best man for his son and the groomsmen were John Ragnum of Long Island, N. J., David Albert Dierker of Norfolk and Raymond Pellegrino of Coatsville, Pa. Miss Josephine Trollinger was mistress of ceremonies.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of Miss Josephine Trollinger, 9000 Granby street. Later Mr. and Mrs. Sanders left for a northern wedding trip.

STRAIGHT From the SHOULDER Fashion, That Is!

By ALICE BROWNE WHITE

Fashion-Week's Editor

"(Women's World) 9 a. m. — Monday through Saturday over WTAR—features Mrs. White's chatter about celebrities, home-making, garden and civic events. Look for "A. B. W.'s Green Thumb Show" December 6, over WTAR-TV, 11-11:30 a. m.)

Holiday hair fashions will be short—a sweet! That's the latest word from Dowdy. And he ought to know. Lady of the Lake trail-blazing locks are out. So are the other extremes, the poodles and three-inch-over-all versions. This season when the beauty experts say "short" they mean longer than short-short!

To be in style you'll have to go back to bobbin curls night-by-night. For hair is curly. Curls, waves and turns are evident around the face as well as in back hair. The soft, feminine look it is.

Mr. Dowdy recommends bringing the hair forward in curls to frame the face if you have fine hair, the kind that's hard to manage and impossible to curl.

The Mamie bang will go down in style history as an international trend along with the Pickford curls and the Irene Castle bob, according to Laura de Gers, famous New York hair stylist.

"Bangs" are becoming to most women if they're shaped and balanced correctly. They can deviate from a straight, waved, or fluffy type according to texture of hair and the individual hair line. Mamie's husband won with a bang, and Mamie's bangs will set the trend in all hair styling for the next decade you can bet. (Tip to the Merry Matrons: Keep your bangs, if you must have them, thin and curly-fluffy and you'll avoid that hard look about the face. Teens can successfully wear the thick bangs but, Merry Matrons, watch out!)

Pelton, the new material, is a pure wool fabric made without weaving and is the latest "miracle" of the textile world. It is expected to replace scruffy canvas and horsehair linings and will permanently shape suits and dresses in "form fitting" contours. Pelton is made of fine hairs of wool "bonded" together by a secret process developed in Germany and Holland before World War II but now imported to the U. S. A. This smooth, snowy white fabric looks like a cross between satin and blotting paper, but is porous enough to blow smoke through and is completely crease-resistant. It keeps heat in and cold out.

Pelton is now being used by top couturiers in Paris, London and New York so watch for it. It's plenty exciting — a fabric made without weaving!

People, Places, Stuff and Things

AT BEACH

Lucky Savage's idea for winter-time theater-go-rounding will bloom forth on Jan. 6, the opening night of the season, when she produces and directs A. A. Miller's "Mr. Pin Faces By" with a professional company of players from New York. This is one of the new professional winter stock companies doing in-the-round shows in the country. Better get in on that season subscription ticket buy now because "but everyone" at the Beach will be jamming into the Four Act Club house when the season starts. "Jappy" Johnson Chase, Virginia Grove and Mrs. Gilmore Tillbrook were three Beachites to appear in the new "YEAR-TV show" "A. B. W.'s Green Thumb Show" last Saturday morning at 11. "Jappy" and Virginia modeled glamorous Christmas frocks for Florence Wilson Morisette, another Beach resident, and Mrs. Tillbrook assisted in giving the "A. B. W.'s Green Thumb Show" a monthly garden bulletin. Your Althea will present her show every other Saturday morning; Dec. 20 will feature winning table settings, mantles and so on, as some of the winners at the Federation of Garden Clubs. The "A. B. W.'s Green Thumb Show" is coming Garden Club and the Larchmont Garden Club will be audience guests for the next show which will be held in the studio-theater at WTAR-TV. (Readers are invited to write in for an invitation ticket.)

Winifred Nixon Green, with only her left hand, is painting and weaving every bit as well, and better, than she did with both hands. Have you ever seen anything lovelier than her camelias and roses? She loves to chat with visitors who find her 54th street, extended studio. There you'll also find ambitious and talented Miss Laura Archibald, whose portraits are really gems. Althea's Mayflower Shopping Center shop, so much has a very close affinity for Frank Cato. He visits civic clubs a lot these nights. Loves hearing the wee tola squeals and the big tola whoop it up when he appears!

Dale Fairless' parents have moved to Chapel Hill and are managing her shop there so Dale can be a three-day commuter back and forth to the Beach. Incidentally, Old Santa who stops off at Dale's Mayflower Shopping Center shop, so much has a very close affinity for Frank Cato. He visits civic clubs a lot these nights. Loves hearing the wee tola squeals and the big tola whoop it up when he appears!

Lots of feathers worn in hats and caps this winter, especially the long-tailed pheasant ones that'll tip your nose or get into your eyes when she turns quickly about. Wonder if you know that he "feather in your cap" which can come to mean an honor for accomplishment, figuratively speaking, was once an actual feather. An old custom; still observed in Scotland so we hear, was to present the first bird downed at an important shooting party to the man responsible so that he might pluck a feather and place it in his cap!

Queen Elizabeth has given the fashion world a shot in the arm. Designers and manufacturers, joining in the fuss and fashion fury about her coming coronation, have turned out royal ideas for you. Crowns have already caught on for evening wear. The Ben Hur people have put out a replica of Elizabeth's own, her diamonds replaced by rhinestones. Another one of metal is embellished with strands of rhinestones. Very fancy and gay and much fun as a sad for American women to adopt this year. Let us be gay under our crowns in '53! Next week's report on the New York fashions we see.

IT'S FUN TO COOK

By LUCKE CLARK

Food Editor

See "Let's Cook" every Monday through Friday at 12:45 on WTAR-TV

At the close of World War II the 4-H clubs and other rural youth organizations in this country began to wonder "How can we be sure this won't happen again?" That's what Nancy Short, assistant-home demonstration agent-in-training in Norfolk County, told me.

Much thought and study were given this question and it was decided that merely sending food and clothing abroad was not enough. It would take a personal touch. Why not plan and arrange for an exchange program so that 4-H Club members could live and work on farms in other countries and in turn the youths of those countries would come and live and work in our wonderful country? This idea grew and developed into a cooperative extension program and began to function in 1947. By the end of this year 254 youths will have been exchanged for 173 from other countries.

It was a pleasure on Monday for me to have Miss Vrenni Landott of Turgi-Aargau, Switzerland, as my guest on "Let's Cook." Vrenni (Preni) has been visiting for the past three weeks in Norfolk County.

Vrenni is a charming person and demonstrated her recipes in a most pleasing manner. I was amazed—she said, "I'm scared to death." But she showed no signs of it. Before I share with you the recipes Vrenni prepared, I want to tell you a few of the interesting things she told me: In Switzerland, the breakfast menu consists of hot milk, coffee and bread. Coffee is usually served with hot milk, using half coffee and half milk. The mid-day meal is their main meal. Soup is nearly always served, and beef and pork are the favorite meats, with plenty of potatoes.

Never a sweet salad, usually raw. For the evening meal, supper, a very light menu is the custom. Pancakes are a very popular supper dish. Some more hot milk, perhaps bread and jam. Cheese, of course, is plentiful and popular. A great deal of cream is used in the preparation of all Swiss foods. You can see by the recipes that Vrenni prepared—and they were both—delish-uh!

Friday is pie day in Switzerland—and no pie for main dish and a pie for dessert—their are:

Main Dish Pie

3 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
4 strips bacon (cut fine)
1 tablespoon flour
2 cups thick cream
1-2 pound Swiss cheese, grated

Beat eggs, add salt, blend the flour in part of the cream.

Vrenni said, "Make a little dough with flour and little of cream," then add rest of cream, bacon and cheese. Mix well. Have pie pan lined with pastry, pour in cheese mixture and bake at 375 degrees about an hour. Serve hot.

Now for the dessert pie: Line pie pan with pastry; arrange sliced apples neatly over pastry. Over them pour mixture of three eggs beaten with one-half cup sugar and then one cup thick cream with one tablespoon flour blended in, and a dash of salt. Bake at 375 degrees about 3-4 hours. When pie has cooled, sprinkle over it one-fourth cup sugar. It's ready to be served and you'll be ready to enjoy it. It surely was good. Try it and you'll agree. Calorie—heaven! How many? Oh! I don't know!

By now—till next Thursday.

Here's Grand Idea For Christmas Centerpiece

For a family dinner table centerpiece use a bright red felt Santa's boot lengthwise with a spilling cornucopia, and fill it with tiny, red - and - green - wrapped gifts and nuts.

How about spraying an ordinary mesh orange bag with gold paint, line the inside with red paper and trim with plume cones, red berries and gay ribbons as a container for fruits and nuts?

A pleasant gift for a friend going on the South American-West Indies Jan. 7-21 Cruise could be a novel wrapped in a map of the itinerary, tied with bright ribbons and with a good pair of sunglasses tucked into the bow.

Bottles of cologne, perfume, lotions, beverages and so on will cease to be tiresome for gift-wrapping if you cover the bottle

PETTICOAT LANE

Exclusively for Women

With Christmas just a few weeks off, it's time to think about that tree and those evergreen wreaths and centerpieces. You can give your tree and evergreen decorations a truly outdoor look this year by wrapping up a bed of glittering snow made from pomp fluff. Simply wrap a couple of tubs of water with a large box of Lark fluff until it forms a paste. Then spread the paste along the branches and twigs with your fingers. The homemade "snow" will glaze as it hardens and give your tree a fairyland appearance. Whether it snows or not, yours will be a lovely white Christmas!

The next time you find it necessary to drive a nail in a plastered wall to hang a picture or shelf, try this wall-saving method. Just get out Junior's compass and run it horizontally along the wall until the needle sets. The needle is attracted by metal and will show you exactly where the nails in the 2x4 wooden joists are.

Don't throw out leftover candle stubs. You'll find them handy for touching off a blaze in your fireplace. Just set one or two under the tinder beneath the logs.

With dark paper: glue on stars for a face and then shred light-colored tissue paper for pasting on top of wrapping for a collar. To be ever-so-gay, you might add a fancy hat to the collar.

More Than 7,000 Study History in Living Laboratory

More than 7,000 students equal to a good sized army have studied history in the "living laboratory" of early American history since October 1 when the annual winter camp began. It was announced by Colonel Williamsburg.

The totals for the first two months of the winter camp season are 26 per cent ahead of the same period last year. The 1,100 elementary and high school students touring the historical places of the restored colonial capital city were from 12 schools of Virginia, North Carolina, and Maryland.

Advance schedule of classroom groups for next week indicate a heavy visitation during the remaining months of the special school season which ends March 15. J. Neville Williamsburg, director of school activities for Colonial Williamsburg, said.

High School P-TA Meets Monday

The regular monthly meeting of the Virginia Beach High School P-TA will be held Monday, December 15, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. It was announced by Mrs. R. W. Digges, president.

Dr. Robert O. Nelson, Virginia state president of the Congress of Parents and Teachers, and superintendent of schools of the city of Newport News, will speak to the assembly on "A New School in a Community." The school club, under direction of William Miller, music instructor, will give a program of Christmas music. Light refreshments will be served by Mrs. Fred N. Lowe, social chairman, and her committee.

Mrs. W. M. Ray, library chairman, requests that each person bring a book from his library to help enlarge the school library. These books will be carefully screened before being put into use. The cooperation of each patron is urged by Mrs. Digges.

Miss Anne Holland was in Annapolis Wednesday and Thursday and attended the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia, Saturday.

PLANS DURING ON CAMPUS... The annual winter camp season is in full swing at Colonial Williamsburg.

'Antic Spring' To Be Presented On Saturday

"Antic Spring," a comedy with six characters, will be presented Saturday, December 13, at 8 p. m. in Cook School for the benefit of Boys' Home, Covington, Va.

Members of the Young People's Fellowship of Calles Episcopal Church are raising funds to build a cottage for orphaned boys at the overcrowded mountain home.

The play tells of the antics of six people going on a picnic. There are no properties used except chairs to represent a jockey. Dialogue and action move quickly, emphasis is on pantomime and characterization.

Blossom, the idiotic teenager, who hops, is portrayed by Mary Page Hilliard, a student at Turnbull's School. Ebert, the typical noisy little brother, is played by Donald Hartley, of Virginia Beach High School.

The couple who are in love with love, Kitty Terrell and Judd White argue over nothing throughout the play.

Frances Keena and Ernest Posey are serious and poetic young things, until ants and rain interrupt the picnic in a final scene of merriment.

Tickets are on sale for $1 by members of the Youth Fellowship and will also be sold at the door of Cook School before the performance at 8 p. m. Saturday, December 13.

A dance will be given at Tucker Hall for the young group after the play. Refreshments will be served and admission will be by ticket stub only.

Five Arts Museum Marks Christmas

The Christmas season will open officially for many Virginians at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts Friday evening in the country from 8 to 10 o'clock. The event, for members and their guests, will be a LUNCHEON and the year highlighted by the showing of the Venetian painting of the 16th century, "The Christmas Story in Art," and made festive by the 100-voice choir of Virginia Union University presenting Christmas music.

"Adoration," by Federico Lombardi, a follower of Titian, is the painting chosen to be the focus of attention in the country. It will be illuminated against a crimson panel. The walls will be filled with Southern oysters and the doors hung with Holly wreaths. Dozens of guests will welcome visitors at the doorway where their tall candles will show on the large red banner bearing Christmas greetings.

At 8:00 the choir will sing Christmas carols and visitors will find that their Christmas spirit is once more revived.

"Adoration" will remain on view during the holidays. The building will be open to the public except for closing on Christmas Day and the day following.

Christmas Trees Can Easily Lead
A Double Life

There are a number of things you can do with your Christmas tree after New Year's bedtime burning it.

If it is a fir, for instance, it can be anchored in the back yard — perhaps in a corner of the garden — and used as a bird feeder the remainder of the winter. Pieces of meat and little feed bags may be tied to the branches. A container of water should be placed beneath the tree and kept filled so the birds will have a drink every day.

Or, cut off the branches and place them, curved ends up, over flower beds when the ground is exposed. An evergreen mulch helps prevent the soil from heaving during alternate freezes and thaws. Long branches may be built into little lean-tos to protect tender shrubs from sun scald.

The needles of a Christmas tree can be sprinkled beneath acid-loving plants such as laurel, andromeda, rhododendron and blueberries.

If the needles on the tree are still firm, use the branches in

TO VISITORS

Harmony and good relations were the keynote at Fort Story this week as the Amphibious Truck Training Center played host to a number of distinguished civilian guests from Virginia Beach.

Brig. Gen. Harold R. Duffie, commanding general of Fort Story, welcomed the visitors to the Fort in the name of the Army. Col. Henry G. LeGarde, sub-institution commander, arranged for the visit of several Duffie to Fort Story for the occasion.

The following were among the civilians who participated in the visit: Charles R. Bryant, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce in Virginia Beach; John H. Bell, president of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Lucy E. Traflet, an outdoor window box. Moistened the soil in the box. Then push the cut ends of the branches down to the bottom and secure the soil firm around them. This will generally give you greenery all winter.

If you must burn your Christmas tree, don't toss it into a fireplace. Cut off the branches and burn them safely, one by one.

And remember, a Christmas tree tossed into the street can become a fire hazard if playful children pick it up and make a bonfire of it in a vacant lot.

superintendent of the Facilities Division in Virginia Beach. The party included 25 civil and business leaders of Princess Anne County.

A luncheon was served for the guests at the Officers' Club on the Post. Speeches were made in which stress was laid upon the fact that both the Army and the civil representatives had great interest in cementing good relations between the military installation and the neighboring community.

General Duffie expressed his gratitude for the kind of friendship that has always existed between the Army and Tidewater Virginia and urged a continuance and increase on both sides. He stressed Fort Story would be open to visitors at any time and they would always be welcome.

Service Club No. 1 has initiated a program of dance instruction for the troops on the Post. The first class was held December 4 under direction of Mrs. Sam Williams of Virginia Beach, a professional dancing teacher.

Response to the first class was enthusiastic. Miss Eleanor Wall, recreation director, hopes it will be possible to make the instruction of the troops a regular club activity. Mrs. Woods conducted the first lesson during the weekly dance and gave individual instruction to her pupils.

The approach of the Christmas season has brought forth from Special Services the announcement that a gift wrapping service will be available again to the men of the Post. Volunteers from the Princess Anne Senior and Junior Women's Clubs and members of the Episcopal and Presbyterian churches in Virginia Beach will be on the Post twice weekly to do this work. Further information on hours and days allotted for the work will be published in the daily bulletin.

BEST MEN AWARD GIVEN
The 200th T. A. C. Co. has been awarded the "Best Men of the Month" award for November. Presentation of the cup, plaque and banner symbols of the honor was made at the noon meal December 3 by Col. Henry G. LeGarde, sub-institution commander. Capt. William R. Barr, commanding officer of the 200th, received the award on behalf of his men.

Most officers of the company in Lt. John J. Conrangan Jr., Sgt. Paul C. Koch is quartermaster.

WEEKLY SPORTS RESULTS
The Post basketball team overthrew the Naval Retraining Command at Norfolk, 21-14, in a game at the Post Story gym. The win was Fort Story's sixth in succession and preserved the team's undefeated record.

Early taking the lead early in the first quarter the Fort Story team dominated into the fourth quarter. The team's lead was a fast break and a two-point play that never gave the visitors a moment's rest. The soldiers controlled both backboards and dominated the play throughout the contest.

Leading scorer for the visitors was Henry who picked up a total of 18 points. He was supported in the record book by G. H. Apple and Greenwood who each scored 14. Sacha-shaki topped the naval retraining command with 10 markers. Alexander starred defensively for Fort Story by his strong rebounding.

Charles G. Berry Needs Firemen

Charles G. Berry was elected president of the Virginia Beach Volunteer Fire Department at the regular business meeting Tuesday night, December 2. He succeeded F. C. Hester, who has held the office for the past year. Mr. Berry will take office on January 1 for one year.

Other officers for 1953 include A. C. Tibbitt, vice-president; Anderson Holland, secretary; Clyde Jackson, treasurer.

Chief R. R. Borne announced Robert Mearns was promoted from captain, salvage company, to deputy chief. Other promotions were Joseph Carroll from lieutenant to captain, salvage company, and Clyde Mearns from lieutenant to captain, engine company.

During the past year the volunteers have assisted the regular fire department in over 400 calls and have succeeded in holding losses to a minimum. They have purchased a new walk-in type salvage truck and have The Berries will get their strongest test of the season December 8, when they engage the power laden Naval Air Station unit at Oceana. The sailors have a number of ex-college stars and are the toughest team Fort Story must face in the first half of the league schedule, according to Coach Feters.

whenever a sufficient number of students desire the same subject. When this is done, USAFI provides extra texts and reference books while the installation furnishes a competent instructor. Basic education courses designed to give the individual the rudiments of a primary education are offered in this manner.

USAFI makes available to the service another important feature. It provides a testing service which measures educational development on all levels of study. No fee payments are required here nor is enrollment in the Institute a prerequisite. Test scores are returned to the examinee or sent to his state school or employer according to his own wishes. Results may aid the student in advancing in his study or even obtaining a degree while still in the service. Such results may give chapters on the basis of their own merits or the basis of their own merits.

The main test in this USAFI series is the General Educational Development Test. The G. E. D. is available on either high school or college level and helps to measure educational progress in the broader aspects. Further examinations are available to show advancement in specialized fields of study. Basic and intermediate achievement tests are designed to measure general educational proficiency at grade levels 5 through 8. FET literacy training tests cover the first four grades and are for military use only. There is no possibility of obtaining credit from civilian institutions through this latter series.

The service plan for USAFI is constantly increasing as more and more men are coming to the advantage of the educational benefits offered through the service. The influence of the Institute is further evidenced by the increased participation of its students both while they continue in the service and later on in civilian life.

The foundation of USAFI on Christmas Eve of 1941 may be coincidental but it would be very difficult to prove to the thousands who have benefited from it that the Institute is anything less than the latest Christmas present the Army ever gave to its own troops and to the men in the other branches.

Egg Producers Appear to Face Profitable Era

"Generally more favorable" is the outlook for Virginia egg producers, as seen by Dr. R. C. Krueger, associate agricultural economist at VPI.

He says it appears the demand for eggs will be stronger during the coming year. A reduced supply in the picture, and food costs are expected to increase. "The result of these factors should make 1953 a more favorable year for Virginia egg producers than 1952," he concludes.

A less than normal difference is expected in the price of eggs between the first and last half of 1953. Defense spending, investment spending, and consumer incomes are likely to level off or even decrease during the latter part of 1953. This may cause some reduction in demand. Higher egg prices next spring may lead to an increase in the number of chickens farmers raise and in an increase in the supply of eggs during fall and winter, 1953. There likely will not be as great an increase in the price of eggs between the first and last half of 1953 as usual in last season.

Broiler prices will probably average slightly lower in 1953 than in the first 10 months of 1952. Dr. Krueger says wide variations which occur in broiler prices from week to week, and month to month make the value of an estimated average annual price to producers doubtful. Few producers sell birds more often than four times a year. The price on the day they sell has more influence on their income than the average annual price.

'GIVE A LIFE FOR CHRISTMAS,' IS PLEA OF VIRGINIA STATE POLICE

"Give a life for Christmas," said Col. C. W. Woodson Jr., superintendent of state police and executive chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, as Virginia entered the final—its consistently most dangerous traffic month of the year.

"A traffic tragedy," said Colonel Woodson, "in all the more near-coming coming at this season of the year and even those which do not result in death or injury can be awkward at a time when we need our automobiles and all the cash we have for taxes and Christmas presents."

He pointed out also that largely by reason of early darkness, increased drinking, inattentive shoppers, holiday crowds and impatient, preoccupied drivers December has seen 751 traffic deaths in the 16 years preceding 1952 and this figure is 30 more than any other month has seen during the same period. December also is particularly dangerous for pedestrians and, of the 94 traffic deaths for the month last year, 31 people were killed while asleep.

In asking Virginia walkers and drivers not to go out with the Old Year and not to cause anyone else to do it, Colonel Woodson listed a few pertinent tips for December traffic:

1. Be very careful about drinking and driving or walking. Ordinarily temperate people are prone to be careless about drinking during the holiday season.
2. When shopping on foot, remember traffic is abnormally heavy and drivers have their thoughts elsewhere than on their driving. Cross streets cautiously and at intersections. Don't let your vision be backed by armfuls of packages. If you're driving, don't window shop from your automobile.

3. Remember we are experiencing the shortest days of the year and that darkness drastically cuts a driver's vision.
4. If you're going out of town, start early, drive carefully and bear in mind that the highways will be crowded with drivers whose minds are on the holidays and who are trying to reach their destinations in the shortest possible time.

In closing, Colonel Woodson noted that Virginia entered the month with about 8 per cent less deaths than for the same period of 1951 despite a rise of approximately 9 per cent in traffic volumes. "The fact that December is a month with a heavy casualty rate gives us all the more opportunity for bettering the year's record and substantially improving Virginia's national standing," he said.

Fall Courses in Boating, Piloting At Norfolk Division of W-M

The fall courses in "Piloting, Seamanship and Small Boat Handling," given by the Elizabeth River Power Squadron at the Chrysler Yacht and Country Club, and the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary, have been completed. 29 yachtsmen completed the course.

The Elizabeth River Power Squadron is a unit of the U. S. Power Squadron, with 136 chapters, located in boating centers of the United States. Its purpose is educational and social.

During the summer, rendezvous are held at yacht clubs, group cruises are planned and piloting contests are arranged. In winter the educational aspects of other organizations receive the most emphasis.

The course just completed is known as the elementary course and no boatman may become a member of the Squadron until he passes it. For those who join the Squadron several more advanced courses are available.

This course will be repeated at the Cavalier Yacht Club next fall if a sufficient number of persons indicate their interest. The classes are held one night a week for 14 weeks. The subjects covered include: Rules of the Road, Seamanship, Safety, Afloat, Manners and Customs, Charts and Piloting, the Compass, and Aids to Navigation. The course is open to the public without charge and it is not necessary to own a boat or be a member of a yacht club to enroll.

Those who have completed the present course say it is highly instructive and is made interesting by the use of movies and models illustrating the principles involved. Instructors were Commander Marvin Stone of the Elizabeth River Squadron; Fred Swink, and Edward L. White of the College of William and Mary.

Sixteen persons completed the course at Virginia Beach and seven in Norfolk. They included William A. Cox Jr., Harry L. Giesman, R. B. Richardson Jr., Marvin H. Marshall, Thomas J. Peck, Robert F. Rice, Dr. B. B. Battlemann, W. H. Terry, Lee O'Reilly, Paul L. Watter, Charles A. Waller, Frank R. Motley, Walter A. Shean Jr., Julian A. Johnson, Sterling D. Holcombe and Francis E. Oliver.

In Norfolk: Edward Stone, Rippon J. Wells, Milton F. Friedman, J. O. Taylor, Edwin H. Winkler Jr., Otis H. Riddle and J. C. Oak.

TAKEWELL LEADS LICENSE RACE, STOWERS - FINISHES

I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, reports that Takewell County, as in the last few years, leads all other Virginia counties in the number of hunting and fishing licenses sold this year. The City of Richmond leads all cities in hunting and fishing license sales, Quinn said.

Norwegians Start Noel Preparations At Mid Year

Christmas just couldn't help being the event of events in Norway when grandmother was a girl.

Without exaggeration, preparation for Christmas actually began six months before December 24. Everything which was used—food, clothing, household furnishings—was prepared in the home. Even the leather for shoes was tanned from hides raised on the homestead.

The cloth for apparel, from the skin out, was woven on handloom. Cobblers came to the house and made the shoes; dress-makers and tailors came. Everyone in the household had to have a new wardrobe for Christmas and, since tailors and cobblers and dressmakers could not be at all places at once, it was necessary to get an early start.

When the butchering was finished in October or November—the meat was salted and the candles were made. The children always had a hand in making the little candies for use on the Christmas tree.

OFFICIALS VISIT NAVAL FACILITY

REPLACEMENT OF SAND NOT AS EXPENSIVE AS ESTIMATED

A report from the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission made to the city council Monday night revealed that the cost of combating erosion is running under the estimate.

Commissioner H. E. Hildbrand advised members of the council also that the work of restoring the beach should be completed to 42nd street on or about February 1, 1953. It is now complete to 32nd street.

Hildbrand reported that the total cost of fill through 42nd street is now estimated at $708,000. This will include $47,000 for walkway repairs. However, $80,000 more must be spent on the walkway to replace steps washed away, handrails and similar additions.

Council has appropriated $601,325 to the commission, including cash on hand and the $38,000 appropriation made Monday night.

In other action Council voted on final reading to increase city notes with the Southern Bank of Norfolk by $91,000 and with the Seaboard Citizens Bank by $90,000, to make the city notes held by each bank $207,000 after refinancing. It also voted to refinance a city note for $117,000 held by the Bank of Virginia Beach for another year.

The matter of non-payment of water and sewerage bills was passed on final reading which gives the water department authority to discontinue service. The ordinance allows 30 days after mailing of bills before the service is cut off. The present limit is 90 days. A fee of $2.50 will be charged delinquent water users for turning the water off and a like fee will be charged for resumption of service.

The Council appropriated $250, payable $50 a month, to the Virginia Beach National Guard unit, and $1,285 to Kellam & Kellam for assisting in successfully defending the city in three suits. Company right of way property in the city, subsequently settled without proceedings.

As a result, the local post office is now mainly concerned with completing delivery of incoming Christmas cards and gift packages.

"Now we are entering the clean-up stage," said Postmaster Myers. "The Christmas mail has been heavier than ever this year. But I think everything can be delivered by December 25, if the public will cooperate in a number of little ways."

AIR RIFLES ARE NOT SUITABLE CHILD GIFTS, CHIEF STATES

Virginia Beach Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson this week issued the following statement:

"The Police Department finds it necessary again this season to warn of the danger of purchasing the distribution of firearms and air rifles alike within the city limits of Virginia Beach. "We realize many children are requesting air guns for Christmas and that many of them will be supervised in the use of the same; however there are also those who are allowed to go about discharging these weapons at will. Serious bodily injury can be sustained by these toy-like but dangerous weapons, not to mention our noticeable misuse of the weapon; namely breaking out windows, street lights and shooting at pets."

"Reports this past year have been handled continually about children (and even adults) in the vicinity of these toy-like weapons to the extent of personal injury, one of such seriousness that the person had to be treated at the hospital.

"This becomes very serious when such as this occurs and there is no way that we can consider tolerating such an act as the discharging of these weapons by either adults or children which is in violation of Chapter 11, Section 1, of the City Code. A conviction of such a violation can carry a fine up to $500 or confinement in jail or both.

"The police department does not wish to be a killjoy nor does it wish the unpleasant duty of charging any one with such a violation. We are therefore asking the cooperation of the parents in not buying their children air rifles and the such if they intend to shoot it off in the city. Also, those who have such guns we ask their cooperation in curbing this nuisance.

Housing Prices Seen Steady or Slightly Higher

Stable or higher prices for new homes during the next six months were predicted by 91 per cent of new home brokers in 345 communities reporting in a survey of the real estate market just concluded by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Only 9 per cent of the reporting boards expect any softening in new home prices. Three of every ten forecast higher prices.

The remainder believe their local markets will be marked by a stable price situation.

Half of the reports predicted stable prices for existing homes during the next six months. Ten per cent forecast higher prices. A steady demand with a stable volume of sales activity in the market for existing homes is predicted for the next six months by half the participating boards.

The other half are about evenly divided between predictions of greater and of less turnover. Sales of newly constructed, single-family homes are reported (Continued on Page Three)

Osborne O. Ashworth, Jr., who has been transferred to the Norfolk office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, where he will be commercial manager of the records office. He has been manager of the Virginia Beach office since last March first. He is being succeeded here by L. Floyd Patrick.

HEARING ON ANNEXATION NEXT JUNE 1

June 1 has been set as the date for hearing of the annexation suit of Virginia Beach to take in more territory, including the city of Norfolk. This was agreed upon the past week by a three-judge tribunal which will hear the case in Princess Anne's Court and opposing attorneys.

The three judges who will hear the case are Judge Floyd E. Keenan, of Princess Anne's Circuit Court; Judge Burnette Miller Jr., of Culpeper, and Judge Jeff Walters of Olney.

Presentation of information required by the Code of Virginia occupied the hearing. Attorney Thomas Wilcox and Roy Smith, for Virginia Beach, supplied information on the city's debt, in addition to bonded indebtedness, which was compared with allowable bonded debt. They also supplied estimates on receipts and expenditures of the city through 1958 and the figures for the current year.

James Causey qualified as engineer for Virginia Beach, and John B. McCaughy as engineer for the county.

Local Beta Group Is Organized

A local chapter of the National Beta Club, a service - leadership organization for high school students of America, was established Tuesday, November 23, at Virginia Beach High School, according to James A. Johnson.

The National Beta Club, with over 1,925 local chapters and 49,000 members in high schools of 16 states, is in its 20th year, and has been in operation since 1933.

Objectives of this organization are to encourage effort, promote character, stimulate achievement among its members, and encourage and assist students to continue their education after high school graduation.

Mrs. J. B. Hudgins, teacher of Latin, has appointed E. E. Keenan, of the local chapter. Permanent officers for this year are: President, Dave Betts; vice-president, Judy Lovell; secretary, Carol Lusk; treasurer, Carol Lusk.

STUDENT OFFICERS

FOUR INDICTMENTS STEM FROM GRAND JURY MEET

The special Princess Anne County Grand Jury brought indictments against three Virginia Beach men this week as a result of its investigation of alleged gambling and illegal whiskey sales in the county and the city.

Indicted were Sims Redwine, operator of Fortune, on Atlantic Avenue near 38th street, for gambling; L. S. Shields, of the Dunes Club, Virginia Beach, and Karl Andrews, also of the Dunes Club, for gambling.

The jury's report made recommendations that would increase the personnel of law enforcement agencies, would prosecute patrons of establishments raided as well as the proprietors, and would convene another jury for investigating gaming and liquor sales next June or July.

After the jury's report had been made Judge Floyd E. Keenan indicated that he would call a conference of all law enforcement agencies of the city and county and charge them with doing everything possible to carrying out the recommendations of the jury.

Forty-five witnesses were heard during the jury's five-day session. The jury was convened in November as a result of allegations during outer proceedings against the sheriff of Princess Anne County and Police Chief of the City of Virginia Beach.

The jury's report discussed the difficulty of obtaining testimony in regard to liquor and gaming violations, and said: "Our investigation forces us to conclude that by their patronage, responsible citizens have unwittingly encouraged the operation of places whose profits were derived principally from gambling and illegal sale of liquor and without which they could not continue to operate."

A portion of the report was devoted to the unusual growth of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County and the influx of visitors during the summer months. It was pointed out that this taxed law enforcement agencies and fire prevention units to the limit. (Continued on Page Five)

BELL RE-ELECTED AS CHAMBER HEAD

John H. Bell, local tire distributor, was re-elected to the presidency of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce at its annual dinner meeting held at the Princess Anne Country Club on Tuesday night.

Calhoun R. Bryant was re-elected vice-president and James G. Kontopoulos, treasurer. The meeting was attended by approximately 175 persons.

E. O. Jewell, manager of the Norfolk Port Authority, was the principal speaker.

Start Holiday Trip Early-Johnson

Be wise this Christmas - start your holiday trip in time, take it easy, and arrive safely! Appealing to Virginia Beach motorists who plan to drive home for the Christmas holiday, Chief Reeves E. Johnson today urged extra care in driving over winter roads.

The police chief pointed out that reports by 24 states to the National Safety Council listed unfavorable road conditions as a factor in nearly one out of four fatal accidents in 1951.

BOARD DOES ABOUT FACE AT MEETING

In one of the liveliest sessions ever held by the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors, the group last Monday reversed its previous action in asking that Miss Jane Craig be replaced as the county's home demonstration agent.

The action was a reversal of a motion made at the November 11 meeting of the board, and the same two members who moved the original motion and offered a second did likewise in offering a motion to rescind the previous action.

The meeting was lively throughout with some 125 women packing the trial justice courtroom as Princess Anne. Representatives of both sides of the controversy were present.

Mrs. Mildred Mae Darby, chairman of the county home demonstration committee, played a prominent role at the meeting, questioning various persons present in the style of an attorney.

Mrs. Darby described Miss Craig as "a much overworked, lovable lady," and added that the county needs an applicant agent greatly.

Mrs. Pinley L. Paxson, a former county home demonstration committee chairman, spoke in behalf of the Sunny Side Homemakers' Club, whose officers she charged had been re-elected to the county council meetings and were criticized for not taking part in leadership training.

Mrs. Paxson pointed out that the Sunny Side group was asking the question: "Does Miss Craig or any members of the club have the authority to ignore and declare an organization of taxpayers non-existent in the home demonstration office?"

Mrs. Paxson further charged that Miss Craig had "misrepresented the club's method of raising money," and that she had "herself attended," and that Miss Craig had disappeared from the demonstration club's plans to hold an annual dinner for the supervisors, as they had when the county's Agricultural Building was dedicated.

She recalled that a country-wide barbecue sponsored by the Home Demonstration clubs had raised more than $1,000 to purchase equipment for the kitchen in the new building.

Mrs. W. C. Orr Jr. was the only man to speak from the audience. Near the beginning of the meeting he asked the supervisors to "rescind their action." Near the close, he again addressed the group.

"Before this overwhelming demonstration, there is nothing else you can do but rescind your action. I think you look across over your heads, and you may have gone beyond your authority without giving Miss Craig an opportunity to hear charges." Women spoke in rapid order. (Continued on Page Five)

OCEANA HIGH NOTES

As we mentioned why the students will be running into the school for the Annual here, it was about a month ago that we were getting worried about our woods are back and the students from the district around the tenth grade are here. We are ready to start putting the trees together and we hope to have finished shortly.

Students from the Senior class are working on the History, Geography, etc. From what I have heard, they are going to be very good. They are working on them in the library.

point of view the team has shown well. Mr. Koler, head basketball coach, says the boys work well together and have high spirits.

This is Mr. Koler's first year as basketball coach here, coming from Norfolk Academy. This year he will be playing against some of the boys he coached last year. However, Mr. Koler says he will have no mercy on them.

Oceana High School's Faculty

The members of the faculty of Oceana High School have good preparation for the duties they are called upon to perform. Four members hold master's degrees. They are M. P. Strickler, principal; R. E. Cox, assistant principal and teacher of French and chemistry; J. R. Koster, counselor and teacher of social studies; and George Koler, physical education instructor and basketball coach. Some have credit toward their doctor's degree. Frank Taylor and Jewel Whitlock will receive their M.A. degrees this summer — Mr. Taylor from William and Mary, and Miss Whitlock from the University of Virginia. Two other teachers, Miss Margaret Bailey and Mrs. Frances Higgins, have been working on these degrees.

All of the teachers hold college degrees and have at least two years' teaching experience. The average experience is 12 years. Study and experience are not all that a good teacher needs, but patience, personality and friendliness are important qualities of good teachers. Their purpose is to impart knowledge and experience to students so they may have excellent foundations on which to build their own ideas.

OAK HILL — HOME OF JAMES MONROE

Beautiful Oak Hill, a brick mansion overlooking the rolling country southwest to the Bull Run Mountains, was built by President Monroe in 1820-23. Construction was begun during Monroe's first term as President. It was built with the assistance of James Hoban, Irish architect of the White House and a protégé of Thomas Jefferson. After retirement in 1825, Monroe lived here until his wife's death. He then moved to New York.

Choose Gifts for Hospital Patients With Proper Care

Persons who wish to send Christmas gifts to patients in VA hospitals are reminded by Veterans Administration that certain presents are inappropriate, for medical reasons, and certain others are not needed.

VA said candles, cookies and other sweets are not permitted in the diet of diabetics, and other foods are restricted according to individual medical requirements of patients.

Bulk gifts of Yuletide goodies and seasonal package foods are acceptable for distribution to patients by the managers, the announcement said.

Since VA hospitals normally buy sufficient magazines, playing cards, puzzles and games, gifts of this kind are not in demand.

VA is not permitted to make public the names of veteran patients, so gift donors are asked by the agency not to ask for the names of patients for use in sending gifts and correspondence. VA said such persons may send their gifts to the hospital managers for presentation to patients.

Because of numerous requests for a listing of Christmas presents that are considered most appropriate for veteran patients, VA suggested the following:

Books of eleven tickets (in denominations of $1 and $5) which veterans can use in shopping at VA canteens. These books can be bought from the canteen or Special Service office at any VA hospital, domiciliary or other suitable VA installation. The pur-

'Fastest Ever' Ferry Service Now Crosses Bay

The fastest schedule of automobile and passenger ferry service in the history of ferry operations across Chesapeake Bay went into effect at 12:01 Monday, December 15 on this water link of the Ocean Highway.

Announcement was made by Capt. L. H. Garrison, general manager of the Virginia Ferry Corporation, that the ferry service will have a minimum of 22 round-trips daily, and that standing ships will be ready at all times to supplement the new schedule whenever traffic demands. Ferry service will be on a 24 hour basis.

Ships will leave Kiptopeke Beach terminal and Little Creek terminal every 55 minutes each day, from 10 a. m. through 9 p. m. Round trip sailings will be on the hour, between 9 p. m. and midnight, and 7 a. m. and 10 a. m.

The Virginia Ferry Corporation will operate on the new schedule a fleet of five huge modern automobile and passenger transports, radar equipped and with ship-to-shore telephone service. Lunch counter service is on all five ships.

The voyage across Chesapeake Bay is popular with Florida-bound winter vacationists who use the Ocean Highway route from New York to Jacksonville. It is found on no other main North-South highway route, but affords the motorist opportunity to rest and relax, also to dine aboard ship. The fast new schedule announced by Captain Garrison reduces substantially the wait between ships and insures minimum delay under all circumstances.

Routbound ships leave the Kiptopeke, Va. terminal for Little

UNIQUE OPTICAL SERVICE OFFERED TO RESIDENTS OF VIRGINIA BEACH AND PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

The Salasky Optical Co., a name known to residents of Princess Anne County for over 40 years and located NOW at 2101 Atlantic Avenue, across from Cherry-Pearson's Men's Shop — has been offering to the people of this community an optical service that is generally associated only with a metropolitan area.

This service is quick, accurate, and reliable. For those who have the misfortune to need optical repairs and cannot be without their eyeglasses, the Salasky Optical Co. can make these repairs, while you wait and thereby NOT have to be without your good vision for all your workday seeing.

Eyeglass frames, minor adjustments and repairs are made while you wait. Replacement of lens, or lenses, and new eyeglasses, fit in a "one day service." This eliminates that unnecessary trip to Norfolk which entails as many problems, such as transportation to the city, the problem of parking, and that feeling of not feeling like "home folks in a strange place."

The Salasky Optical Co. has had this branch of their business on the beach for a number of years and is personally conducted by Dr. Stanley Salasky — who resides at Virginia Beach the year around. The other branches of the Salasky Optical Co. are located in Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Newport News, Va.

Ten per cent of them report higher prices than prevailed six months ago.

PROGRESS REPORT

The progress report made by H. E. Holmsted, a member of the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission, to the City Council this week on the work being accomplished by the special commission to rehabilitate Virginia Beach's beachfront, was heartening, indeed.

In substance, the Erosion Commission spokesman told the Council that work had been completed from Seventh Street, the starting point, to 32nd Street, and that the remaining blocks to 42nd Street should be completed on or about February 1, 1953.

The report further revealed that the cost of the work is running below estimates, which was particularly pleasing to the Virginia Beach governing body, since the project is a major undertaking for a community of this size.

The report again attests to the sincere effort put forth by members of the Erosion Commission to do the job in the best possible way at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers and consuming the least amount of time.

All of us can feel a certain amount of pride in the herculean task being performed; and certainly all of us will benefit by its results.

THE BLOOD PROGRAM

It is either just plain human nature, or it is an American trait that lessens our interest "when the novelty wears off." But, in the case of the national blood program there should be none of this. It is a vital factor in our lives.

Blood is as much a weapon of defense as are guns, tanks and planes. It is as vital to national strength as aluminum or steel. Unlike weapons, it cannot be mined or fabricated. It must come as a free donation from the veins of men and women of good will.

Since its founding this nation has been involved in a major war every 25 years and a minor military conflict every two and a half years. This history demonstrates the importance of preparedness.

Recognizing that human blood is a critical national resource essential to the country's health, security and strength, the President of the United States has directed the establishment of a National Blood Program within the Office of Defense Mobilization.

The National Blood Program is charged with the responsibility of mobilizing the nation's blood resources so that blood will be readily available to meet the total needs of the country — both military and civilian.

Blood centers throughout the nation are a part of this program and in localities such as Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County blood is collected by trained personnel who visit periodically. The interest in this program should be constantly on the increase.

"LAND OF PLENTY"

The Farm Equipment Institute, a trade association comprising more than 200 leading manufacturers of farm machinery, has published an attractive booklet with the apt title "Land of Plenty." It is based on the most reliable data and information available, including that from industrial, educational, and governmental sources. It tells, in brief and highly readable form, the long and varied history of agriculture from ancient times to the present.

It is a story of famine and the fight against famine — of dark centuries and enlightened ages — of the search for tools that would lessen drudgery and produce more and better foods with less human and animal labor — above all, of the tremendous revolution that came about when the machine was applied to the work of the land.

It is a fact that in 5,000 years agricultural methods changed but little. The greatest part of man's time and energy had to be devoted to raising enough food to keep himself and his family alive.

Then came the transition from muscles to motors — a transition which has taken place in a little more than a long lifetime. Planting and cultivating, soil preparation, land and water conservation, harvesting — these and all the other primary farm tasks are now accomplished with remarkable machines which give maximum efficiency and economy and demand a minimum of labor.

It now takes 25 per cent of our working force to produce our food and fiber. Today it takes 15 per cent. This is the point of the story that "Land of Plenty" tells.

Chicago, Kansas Times: "When a government agency has the wage stabilization board ratified wage increases, or initiates some of its own—as has occurred in many instances over recent years—all is lovely on the labor front and the goose hangs high. But when a bureau honestly feels that a proposed advance is too high, all things considered in the economic picture, and authorizes a reduction—then, South Georgia is to pay."

Start a New Project

From 18 years of age to 34 Ray E. White, Terrington, Conn., had no worries important enough to remember.

Worries were like debts, the big ones he couldn't do anything about, and the little ones he could ignore.

In 1942, however, he hit the jackpot. He was expected to bit. There were a lot of reasons for it, business and family health. His mind was full of fantasies—money, cloudy, nebulous things. Buildings, automobiles, anything material seemed unreal; the stars seemed to be peculiar things.

His wife maneuvered him to a doctor who was a very skillful man. He gave Ray positive statements of what was not wrong with him, put him on a strict diet which kept his mind so occupied he had no time to work.

He went to the YMCA, and learned to bag punch, got enthusiastic about it, even put on a couple of exhibitions. Also he went in for a little boxing and swimming.

He literally had to force himself to go to the "Y," using sheer will power to drag himself over there. But he always went home like a racing buldog.

Now when an occasion arises that might give him cause for worry, he just starts a new project.

Willys Cars Cheaper In New '53 Models

Countering the almost constant upward spiral of automotive prices since the war, Willys-Overland Motors has introduced its new model passenger cars at drastically reduced prices, according to D. Murray Malbon, of Malbon Motors, local distributors.

Malbon stated that the two-door Aero Lark is delivered in Virginia Beach for $1,740.50, and that reductions in prices on all models range from $88 to $186.

The public is invited to view these new cars at Malbon Motors on the Virginia Beach boulevard.

Doris Hareum On Varsity Cage Team

Miss Doris Hareum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hareum, recently was selected a member of the varsity basketball team of Longwood College. Rarely do freshmen accomplish this, but Doris evidently did not lose her eye for the basket or her speed which she had in finishing Oceana in high scoring honors last year. The Longwood team will play Mary Washington College, Madison, Bridgewater, Lynchburg and several other colleges for women throughout the state. Her county fans here extend hearty congratulations to Doris.

Travis Slocum, son of Mrs. Kenneth Clair, will arrive Saturday, December 20, to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Clair at their home on Maryland avenue. Travis is a student at V. P. I. in Blacksburg.

When I attend a club meeting I repeat a lurid story I have heard about someone but which I couldn't prove. If it isn't true it is slander.

If I am walking or driving down the street and the traffic light is against me, I may walk right against a red light. Or, if I am driving I may "jump" a green light before the red comes on. Or if I am almost to the intersection and the red light changes I may just turn my head so I don't see it. That's violating a traffic and safety regulation.

Outgoing Mail

"Delivery of Christmas cards by December 25 to local addresses is still possible, if first-class postage is used. Just make sure that each address bears the street number and is easy to read."

G. Malory Bush, of Mexico City, will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bush, at Lane's End, Lighthouse Bay, on Thursday. Mr. Bush is enroute home from a meeting in Philadelphia.

ACROSS the DESK

From the Thomaston, Ga., Times:

Riley Summers tells of a friend of his on the little stony side. "He had some hogs and a fellow told him if he would pen them up they would fatten in a shorter time. Old Riley thought it over and finally compromised, 'time don't mean nothing to a hog.'"

From the Indio, Calif., News:

Cochella Valley and San Jacinto area game wardens may have regrets for the hunter who mistakenly shot two houses, a school and a maroon convertible, but Cochella's heart bleeds for the Los Angeles golfer who holed out in one on the wrong green.

From the Woodford County Journal, Eureka, Ill.:

The latest report on crime, published by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is not reassuring. Major crimes were 6.4 per cent more numerous in the first half of 1952 than in 1951. The increases were even larger in robbery, auto thefts, and burglary.

Crime increased in rural areas just as much as in cities.

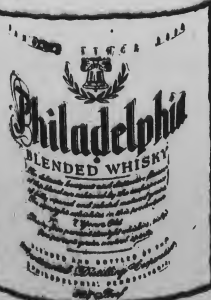

The increase is not due to laxity in law enforcement. The record shows that the police find a substantial percentage of those who are guilty, and that the courts convict 72 per cent of those who are brought to trial.

The ultimate weapon against crime is not law enforcement; it is character building in the home, the school and the church. The increase in crime rates indicate a strong need for greater effort by these institutions.

From the Waco, Ill., Index:

One of our technicians carried the following up recently: "The man who picked up my wallet on Walnut street was recognized. He is requested to return it." The next issue carried this reply: "The recognized man who picked up the wallet requests the loser to call and get it."

After dining at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Avenue, Dr. and Mrs. John A. Arora, of 40 Blackstone Avenue, Seattle, Wash., expressed their delight in a letter in the management here, saying: "It was the best meal we have had in a long time during our travels."

Mr. and Mrs. J. Giannini, 483 Churchill Road, West Eaglewood, N. J., are two others of the many Colony patrons who praise them highly. An excerpt from their letter reads: "We were here in 1948 and returned again because of the food and service."

No Indians in 'The Lusty Men,' New Western

No gun fights or Indians enliven this unusual Western. It is a grim tale of a man's fight for money in a cruel occupation—present day rodeo-ing. There is a corollary plot, the love Susan

Hayward has for her roster star husband, Arthur Kennedy; the destitution she has for his re-occupation, and the silent love that

bears her.

Mitchum's role is passive, but effective; his lines are natural;

the dialogue in general is realistic and effective in aiding the documentary feeling. Miss Hayward is

is good as a naive fellow become drunk with the ease with which he makes money. The insights into varied rodeo events should interest the spectator as much as the plot. Arthur Hunnicutt as a cowboy tall-tales character contributes much needed comedy.

Gilroy, Post 5-3, was chairman, assisted by Capt. Robert W. Sullivan, Assistant Post 5-3. The Officers' Wives Club under direction of their president Mrs. Herbert N. Reed, helped with arrangements. The wives of the enlisted men lent their support under the coordination of Mrs. Thomas E. Knight.

The carnival was to raise funds for the Christmas party December 20 for the children of all military personnel and civilian employees on the Post. About 425 children will attend this party and toys and refreshments will be supplied for all.

Final financial figures showed a gross of $3,109.30 for the 11 hours during which the affair was in operation. Expenses were kept to a bare minimum by voluntary contributions of time, labor and materials from all quarters. Featured was the drawing for the main prizes, tickets for which had been on sale for several weeks at the Post. The awards were made by Col. Henry G. Langard, sub-installation commander. The winners and their prizes are: Television set, Pvt. James P. Hester, C Company trainee; girl bicycle, Sgt. Leonard F. Nutter, Fort Story military police; clock-radio, James H. Napier, Post en-

Weekly Sports Results

The Post basketball team dropped its first game of the season this week to the Naval Air Station from Oceana, 77-58, in a game on the home floor. The game was close until the final ten minutes when Fort Story wilted before a furious sailor attack that led the result.

Amerson led the Storyites in point production with 14 points. Hogan and Greenwood each contributed 13 markers. High man for the evening was Chisholm, who dropped in 23 points for the Navy. Fort Story now sports a 7 and 1 record in league play. The defeat ruined its record as the only undefeated team in the circuit but left the quintet tied for the lead with two other teams.

STRAIGHT From the SHOULDER ... Fashion, That Is!

By ALICE BROWN WHITE

Fashion-Week's Editor

"Woman's World" 9 a. m. — Monday through Saturday over WTAR — features Mrs. White's chatter about celebrities, home-making, garden and civic events. Look for "A. B. W.'s Green Thumb Show" December 6, over WTAR-TV, 11-11:30 a. m.

"The Sea Around Us," Rachel L. Carson's exciting best seller, is the delightful theme which has inspired the spring 1953 millinery collection of the Russ Russell Originals. I saw the beautiful showing in the Carnival Room of the Hotel Sheraton — Netherlands last week and predict that Southern ladies will love Russ Russell's sailors and gobs' hat straw.

Maudie O. Moody, hat fashion commentator, told us that "come age, the world rose out of the sea which still surrounds us—the sea, with its ever-changing drama of color, light and motion remains a perpetual challenge to man to explore, discover, and harness the sea's great potential for the betterment of mankind.

This aim to achieve and disseminate beauty motivates the designer of millinery, just as the Seven Seas call to the explorer." Certainly all of us here at Virginia Beach know the designer's colors and shades that are cast off by the ocean around us.

Russ Russell's sailors, the big ones and the small ones, are no new-looking and pert. His "Coral Sea," a white toya sailor with touches of coral velvet... his gobs' cape of fine white straw with sparkly touches on the up-turned brim... his alligator

People, Places, Stuff ... and Things

Virginia's own Margaret Sullivan is making, sweeping and walling all over the Moscow theater stage in "The Deep Blue Sea" with nary a bang on her forehead. She appears with every single one of these characteristic bangs for so many years combined away. (If you go to the theater for entertainment, skip this play with its incessant three-act-morning theme.)

The incomparable Little Bear that is, introduces the naughtiest song with the most hilarious accompaniment, on a number of "An Evening With Little Bear" you have ever imagined. This one number would be worth the tariff alone, but the rest of her show is corking! Regional Gardner does a new version of the "An Evening With Little Bear" in an operating room that is side splitting. Much fun here!

Helan Hayes in Mary Chase's comic fantasy "Mrs. McTear" will give you much to ponder over. Her role is certainly different than any of her previous ones but she measures up to her former four-star roles, she is here — busy these days with activities as the president of the American Theater Wing and of the American National Theater and Academy and of course, with her annual encouragement in National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Drive.

Katie Hepburn's first grand—and it is grand—entrance in "The Millionaire" is something to behold with its perfect all golden up in a knockout Mainbocher creation, (temporarily striding into the spotlight. Your Althea would say it is the most first entrance in recent theater history. (Her brand "s" are still called Hepburn but she sure gives the theater — goes velvet — leafed calot. Sitting next to her was the beautiful Virginia Pope, president of this important organization, still favoring the flattering profile hat upon her blonde gray coiffure. Virginia is our New York Times fashion editor, a V. I. P. in the Fashion World both at home and abroad.

I was happy to be a guest at this event and to see the tail piece of gift-wrapped tops these fashion gals had brought along to give to the Children's Aid Society — a yearly tradition. The newly appointed executive director, Dorothy D. Waddington, is a mother of four and a former fashion magazine editor in Paris. She looks like a fine new addition to the Fashion Group which was brought into being by Marion Taylor who "lived the spark that carried it through."

Christmas Tree Fashions: Gay swirlings, draping and sparkling hangings have been fashioned again on the Rockefeller Plaza's annual Christmas tree. A week late in getting trimmed and lighted, it is an 85-foot Norway spruce, brought from Alamy, N. J., and had its top wired and lighted attached before it was hoisted into position. Its "accessories" this year consist of 5,000 firefly lights, 600 colorful red, white and blue translucent globes, illuminated from within, and 3,000 feet of golden garlands. It's a beautiful sight — towering over the ice-skating rink in the lower Rockefeller Plaza, with the gaily garbed skaters whirling to and fro to the rhythm of organ and choral concerts — with the 324 tall, white, illuminated candles making the Promenade from Fifth Avenue down to the Plaza picturesquely Christmasy. Baka, Fifth Avenue second floor lighted attraction of choral singer "figures" singing carols, looks down on all this. Yes, even Christmas time decor has its annual fashionably, Christmas picture to tell!

their money's worth in this Bernard Shaw comedy and definitely prove that only Hepburn could make his twice — as — capable — as — any — other — human millionaire come alive.

Lanching with Vyvyan Donser, Fox — Movietone River fashion designer, and Rosemary Sheehan, who has a very special job in England for the Coronation period, Vyvyan's excitement over her new color fashion movies — to be used in live of live fashion shows — was something to see. We lunched in the Cafe Britanny, over on 9th Avenue near the 26th Century Fox New York studios, and had a time of it eating vinegared artichokes, leaf by leaf, in the most delicious dressing! Watching the shooting of her films was an exciting experience, too!

Mary "South Pacific" Martin in New York town and very bubbly and gay at a party tossed for her at the St. Regis by her good friends Rodgers and Hart. Mary had a little longer now that she has given up her London stage chore of "Washington That Man Right Out of My Hair." Mary wouldn't look like Mary Martin without that snappy, short hair-do. Here's hoping her wishful long-hair idea is a short wish.

Cliff "Was You Dere Charlie" Hall — remember him in the days of Jack Pearl's "Baron Munchausen"? — is now in television and always has a sparkling wit emanating in his lapel as early as eight o'clock. Sammy Kay says "You can tell when a woman is 40. She stops patting herself on the back and starts patting herself under the chin!" Now, really, Sammy! Imagine son Maj. Are you planning a family gathering for Christmas dinner this year? If so—you've probably begun planning the good things you're going to serve. Maybe it's a golden browned turkey with chestnut dressing, riblet gravy, sparkling cranberries, vegetables the family likes best—and for dessert a delicious plum pudding.

Some families look forward to plum pudding most of all. Christmas just wouldn't seem like Christmas without the fruit and spice plum pudding.

It's really a delicious rich, fruit-laden spicy plum pudding—and its ours to serve, with only the turn of a can opener. All we have to do is to drop the unopened can of plum pudding in a pan of boiling water and in less than an hour we have a steaming, fruity plum pudding—just like the old-fashioned kind.

"Hard Sauce" is the most popular for plum pudding. Here's the way I make mine:

from the homelard, but because of cost and frequent spoilage, most families made their own. But, as happened to many a long and involved recipe—as the events of the world began happening in more rapid-fire order, and the housewife began spending less time as a housewife and more time as a participating member of her community—the plum pudding was pushed aside for easier, quicker desserts.

Lucky for us, one of this nation's leading food processors stepped in and in 1911 presented a delicious rich, fruit-laden spicy plum pudding—and its ours to serve, with only the turn of a can opener. All we have to do is to drop the unopened can of plum pudding in a pan of boiling water and in less than an hour we have a steaming, fruity plum pudding—just like the old-fashioned kind.

"Hard Sauce" is the most popular for plum pudding. Here's the way I make mine:

1-2 cup soft butter
1 cup 4X sugar
1-4 teaspoon vanilla

Blend and beat until light and fluffy. Add a few drops of cream if needed.

If you'd like a lemon sauce, here's a smooth and creamy one:

1-4 cups 4X sugar
1 egg beaten
3 tablespoons soft butter
4 tablespoons lemon juice

Combine eggs and 4X sugar, beat until smooth, add butter and lemon juice. Cook in double boiler until thick (about 8 to 10 minutes). Stir constantly. This makes one cup.

You can have plum pudding—and good plum pudding—with so little effort, so be sure and make the family happy by including plum pudding on the Christmas dinner menu.

Five now. See you next Thursday.

Christmas Star Has Many Explanations

The "star" which signaled the First Christmas was "interpreted in many ways. In all such interpretation we must put ourselves as nearly as possible into the social and psychological frame of mind of those whom we try to understand. The astronomer knows that through the ages the word "star" has been used to indicate almost any celestial phenomenon. We still speak of "falling stars" or "shooting stars" which we know quite well are not stars at all. In more ancient times the comet was called a "hairy star" and was derived from the Latin word coma, meaning hair. The planets were the "wandering stars" as opposed to the "fixed stars," and from the Greek word for wanderer we derive our word "planets."

The Star of Bethlehem could have been any of these. It could even have been a "new star" or nova which suddenly burst forth with a many thousand-fold increase in brilliance, none to some great stellar catastrophe. These are all explanations of what the "star" could have been. Had it been any of the above, it would have been seen by many peoples, and in literature would have been (Continued on Page Five)

No Family Living Shortages in 1953

No shortages of food, clothing, home furnishings and equipment are foreseen for Virginia families in 1953.

and wholesale establishments are near normal levels. New weavfinishes, textures, colors, and dyes are being developed to increase the popularity of cotton goods.

Man-made fibers such as orlon, dacron, dyrel, vicara, and others will continue to be used. However, the production of these items is not being expanded very rapidly because of heavy capital investments needed.

Average expenditure for clothing was $160 per farm family in the United States last year. Figures from accounts of 1949 families in Virginia averaged $190.
Most family spending was for purchased garments. The economists say this points up the need for farm families to become good buyers, to know fibers and what to expect of them, and to know how to care for their clothing.

Food costs will continue to take a large part of the family income, depending upon whether the family produces much of its own food or buys from a grocer-store. Individuals who much of their food will find supplies available. Less food for sale now being produced on Virginia farms for family use than in 1939 and the trend is still downward.

higher next year. Oil supplies for domestic use are expected

ARMED POULTRY EQUIPMENT TO SAVE TIME AND STRESS

Arrange equipment in the laying house to save steps and labor. Lee W. Herick, associate poultry husbandman at VPI, says birds should be placed together and as near the door as practical to reduce walking distance. Distribute feeders so it is easy to make a "circular trip" to fill, starting and finishing near the feed-room door.

The automatic waterers to eliminate carrying water. Provide them with an overflow to take care of overcapacity. A wire platform around and under the fountain to keep the birds out of the dump spot helps keep the litter dry.

If you depend on electricity for such jobs as incubation and brooding, a "power off" alarm will be good insurance. It rings an alarm in your home the second the power goes off, and you can check for the trouble immediately.

An alarm would be most helpful where infra-red brooding is used, as there usually is no hover to retain the heat from the chicks. A "power off" alarm is not expensive, nor hard to install.

Stratford Hall, Home of Lees, Most Revered Spot, Says 'Holiday'

Another of Virginia's cherished shrines is in the national spotlight this month as Holiday magazine publishes a word and picture tribute to Stratford Hall, ancestral home of the Lees of Virginia.

The Old Dominion has many loved and revered spots that are famous in history, but Stratford Hall has its own particular niche in Virginia's history.

"In spirit, the Lees have now returned to Stratford Hall, and no has much of the ancient glory. It is once again a working, producing plantation with horses, cows and pigs; with rolling acres of alfalfa, wheat, barley and corn, much as it was in the days when Thomas Lee and his descendants lived there."

and unshapable, who, like the Greeks at Thermopylae, stood at the gap, in the defense of their country.

"Two of Thomas Lee's sons, Richard Henry and Francis Lightfoot, signed the Declaration of Independence, a dual honor no other family can claim. For the better part of a hundred years great men produced great sons at Stratford. Maj. Gen. Lightfoot Harry Lee, the dashing Revolutionary commander, had five sons. Among them was Robert E. Lee, born while the Lee fortunes were slipping toward disaster.

Thomas Lee built well, in his mansion as well as in his sons and daughters and in their progeny down through the decades."

HOME MARKETS FOR TURKEYS ARE SUGGESTED

Home markets may be a valuable outlet for turkey growers. Lee W. Herick, associate poultry husbandman at VPI, says by selling a few turkeys locally, farm income can be increased and the market outlet stabilized.

Retailing on the farm requires extra work to dress and draw the birds and to sell them locally, but it brings in added income.

Herick suggests freezing and storing a few turkeys in the home freezer or local freezer plant for year-round sale. Herick also reminds growers that they have from $4 to $7 per bird invested in broiler turkeys, so it is important to keep them healthy and alive. Keep them moving frequently on the range. Remove sick birds, and take them to the nearest diagnostic laboratory for an accurate diagnosis. Drop dead birds into a disposal pit immediately.

Christmas, 1952...

Throngs stand before store windows, their arms filled with gaily wrapped packages... enchanted by sparkling arrays of gifts...

Little folk memorize lines for Christmas pageants... and their elders bring out replicas of the manger and figures of the Holy Family, the Wise Men and the Angels.

Holly wreaths appear in windows, and homes become fragrant with the perfume of firs, cedars and pines, and Christmas cooking...

Everywhere, the joyful anticipation of Christmas is so robust and real that you can almost reach out across the land and touch it.

This Christmas, may our homes be filled with light and laughter, and may the fires burn bright and warm in our hearths...

May there be cheer in our voices for those we pass, and the handclasp of friendship for those who linger with us...

May we have hearts filled with forgiveness and selflessness...

May we have prayers for our fellow Americans who are fighting to preserve liberty... for strangers as well as neighbors.

So long as we have these things, we will give and receive the full reward of Christmas... we will keep Christmas, in all its sacredness, in our hearts... and Christmas will strengthen us in the hope it gives men of good will.

VIRGINIA BEACH, VIRGINIA, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1952

Unique Artificial Christmas Tree Attracts Many

Residents of North Virginia Beach are raving about the huge Christmas tree displayed at the home of John J. Williams at 5406 Ocean Avenue.

The tree is an artificial one but is lifelike in every way. The creator, Mr. Williams, explained that the tree is made of steel plywood and tropical grass.

"It required four weeks to construct, and 34 sheets of plywood were used," Williams said. Other interesting figures concerning the tree are that it is 22 feet high, 10 feet in diameter, and contains 226 Christmas lights.

Mr. Williams has issued an open invitation to the public to drop by and view the tree.

Fort Story Soldiers Give to TB Fund

The soldiers of Fort Story, the Army's amphibious truck training center, have contributed $402 to the Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties' Tuberculosis Association as a result of voluntary donations made on payday, December 1.

A check for that amount, was presented to the association by Mr. Henry E. Lippert, adjutant general of the center, at 8 a.m. today. The check was given to the office of Post Inspectors Friday, December 19, Mrs. Frances M. Brinkman, executive secretary of the organization, accepted the contribution and expressed her gratitude on behalf of those who will benefit by the gesture.

Speaking in the name of his men, Colonel Lagarde declared, "We feel that we are a part of the community and we want to do our share by supporting such worthwhile efforts as the Norfolk and Princess Anne Counties' Tuberculosis Association."

Safety Council Asks Tests be Mandatory in 'Drunk' Arrests

The Committee on Tests for Intoxication of the National Safety Council has passed a resolution requesting all states to amend their driver license laws to provide that, as a condition precedent to receiving their license, drivers must agree that they will submit to a chemical test upon any case when he is suspected of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. Failing to submit would mean automatic revocation of the license.

'Holl-daze' Danger Comprises Many Factors, Johnson Warns

"Avoid holl-daze and enjoy the holidays." This was the advice given Virginia Beach motorists and pedestrians today by Chief of Police Revere E. Johnson characterized holl-daze as a mixture that constitutes an intangible holiday hazard.

"Holiday Hazard" is the December traffic theme of the Virginia Beach Police Department and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee. "Holl-daze," the chief said, "is made up of last minute shopping, office parties, home celebrations, distracting holiday sights and sounds, crowded streets and hurrying pedestrians and motorists. No one of these items itself can be called a holiday hazard," he said, "but put them all together and they result in heedlessness that makes both motorists and pedestrians more careless than usual."

"Worst of all," he said, "holl-daze operates when you're driving home at night, when your headlights are up and down, snow and ice collect on wind-

Fleet Exercises Scheduled For Caribbean Area

More than 100 ships and air units of the Atlantic Fleet will head south this winter to conduct training exercises in the Caribbean. It was announced at Atlantic Fleet Headquarters this week.

"This winter training program has been given the nickname of 'Springboard.' The operation was designed to provide ships and air units more time for basic training under optimum weather conditions in the Caribbean areas near San Juan, Puerto Rico and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. In this way ships and aircraft of the fleet can be made ready for advanced operations in severe climates more rapidly and efficiently than is possible when basic type training is conducted in the North Atlantic in winter.

Heading the list of the larger ships in the program is the New Jersey, which will sail shortly after January 1. The operation will continue during January, February and March, 1953.

Re-enlisting Vets Get Waivers

More than 3,000,000 veterans of World War II holding GI insurance have applied for and been granted a waiver of premium after returning to duty with the armed forces. Veterans Administration officials said the figure is a recent insurance survey.

Veterans in active service for 31 days or more after April 30, 1951, are eligible for the waiver. The GI Bill's term contracts may apply while in active service for waiver of all premiums and thus keep the insurance in force, VA said.

Under this waiver, all premiums falling due will be waived for the duration of the period of active service, plus 120 days after separation or release from active service. To keep such policies in force thereafter, veterans must resume full premium payment when due.

For each term, policy that expires while in active service while the insured is in active service will be renewed automatically for another 5-year period. Veterans with this type of policy must pay payment of the higher premium for their automatic renewal policies within 120 days after their separation or release from active service.

Persons in active service 31 days or more after April 25, 1951, who are insured under NSLI or USGI permanent plan policies may apply for a waiver of the portion of their premiums which represents the pure insurance cost, and pay the remaining portion which represents the reserve requirements of the policy.

PRAYER FOR PEACE

O God, we ask Thee just for Peace,
Upon this Christmas day;
Let war and strife forever cease,
And love forever stay.

Let none with blood-stained lips—soon sealed,
Cry out Thy name in pain.
Let none on gory battlefields
Die for a cause in vain!

God, let all nations, near and far,
At Thy feet kneel and pray;
That all may find Thy guiding star

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB IS HOST TO YOUNGSTERS

The Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County had their 20 annual Christmas parties for white and colored children at the American Legion Club, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, December 16 and 17.

Lt. Cmdr. Nichols, chaplain, JSM, played Santa Claus both nights to 100 children who anxiously awaited his arrival. Mrs. C. Talbot Dickson was the Christmas queen and led the singing of Christmas carols before Santa Claus arrived. Mr. and Mrs. DeWolf of Ocean Park entertained the children with the DeWolf Marinettes and received an enthusiastic round of applause. After Santa distributed his gifts, refreshments were served and all went home happily with arms full of gifts.

The Junior Women wish to thank Sherman B. Sawyer of the Southern Biscuit Company for his donation of cookies, Southern Dairies for ice cream and presents; the De Wolfe Marinettes, Mrs. DeWolf is a member of the Ocean Park Woman's Club; Jack Strole for Christmas tree, P. C. Cook of the Norfolk Wholesale Florist Company for decorations. Lt. Cmdr. Nichols of Ocean Park Station for Santa Claus, and the 20 soldiers from Fort Story who went to the Wednesday party and helped Santa Claus distribute his gifts and serve refreshments. All of these people contributed to making the two parties a big success.

Highway Department Reports Traffic High

The Highway Department reports that Virginia traffic hit an all-time high the past fiscal year. More than 161-2 million vehicle miles was the daily average. This was an increase of 87 per cent above 1941 and of 163 per cent above 1943 when traffic was cut by the war. Out of state traffic increased 16 per cent over the 1951 fiscal year while tractor trailers and buses were up 7 per cent.

Turkey Crop Cut, Broilers Increase

A drastic cut in Virginia turkey production helped bring a boom in chicken broiler production, last month, the Virginia Department of Agriculture says.

Caught with a huge turkey crop last year, turkey growers in November hatched only 100,000 poulters, or about a third of last year's November production.

For September and November, 1952, turkey poulters hatched numbered 260,000, less than half of last year's comparable figure.

Commercial chick hatcheries turned out 5,363,000 chicks in November, 20 per cent above the record November production last year.

The cut in turkeys may have influenced the jump in broilers, according to the Virginia Cooperative Crop Reporting Service.

Turkey growers have been talking cut-backs after a 60 per cent increase in production brought lower prices last year, and some chicken broiler growers may have been listening. Turkey growers may have figured, however, that more money in chicken broilers this year and switched their houses over, the Service said.

Chicken broiler prices have also been climbing, and the broiler-federated region—the pounds of feed a pound of broiler will buy—has been running a healthy six pounds or so through November and December.

The Mystery of 'Myrtle, The Egg Candler,' or 'Ho Who Laughs --'

This is the tale of "Myrtle, The Egg Candler" which has touched off a search of incoming crates on ships in the Korea combat zone.

It all began when William "Hoppy" Hoffensberger, communications section, USMC, of Kimbly Wm. discovered "Myrtle" in an egg crate aboard the destroyer USS Halsey Powell.

In one crate Hoppy found a scrap of paper on which was written "Myrtle" and a long letter. "Any sailor who finds this message please write. I am working as an egg candler and the job is getting me down."

Without Hoppy's knowledge, fellow cooks wrote a long letter in reply and signed Hoffensberger's name at the bottom.

MANAGER

Ellen Reitelback Contest Winner

Recently, Oceana High School participated in the "I Speak for Democracy" contest, four students participating. They were Carolyn Meacham, Joann Hughes, Ellen Reitelback, and Eva Lee Savage.

Carolyn Meacham and Ellen Reitelback ran a close race for first place. Ellen came out on top. Her speech was entitled "STAY IN, and we need it in this competition."

Oceana High School is proud of these four girls and wishes the best of luck to Ellen at State.

City Offices to Close Xmas Day

The offices at City Hall will be closed Christmas Day, but will reopen Friday, December 26. It has been announced.

The same schedule will be in effect at Princess Anne County house for county offices.

This is the same schedule as the government offices have observed in the past, it was pointed out.

No School 'Til Monday, Jan. 5

Public schools in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach will reopen Monday, January 5, it has been announced.

Most of the schools will recess for the Christmas holidays beginning Wednesday. Regular classes will be held on Monday, January 5.

October Worst Month On State's Highways

During August 3,770 people were killed by motor vehicles on the streets and highways of the United States. In 1941, when the final score was tabulated for the Pearl Harbor attack, 3,363 were listed as dead or missing.

Record Business Experienced by Local Post Office

Christmas—a record Christmas at that—is almost over. At Virginia Beach post office the postal operations, deliveries, work done by regulars, supervisors, and extra help the smoothest ever.

Every piece of mail that has come in at night was delivered the next day. This is unusual for the Yule season since in most years it required more than one delivery.

Although there may be some backlog of incoming mail, the postmaster, Howard S. Myers, says they are equipped to take care of any anticipated extra load. The Virginia Beach postmaster, at this time, wishes to thank the general public for the cooperation received from them at the Virginia Beach post office and to extend to the citizens of this community his wishes for a most happy Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

The growth of this area during the past three years has created problems which they have tried to meet to the best of their ability. With the continued cooperation upon the part of the public, Postmaster Myers is sure these problems will be met and solved in a satisfactory manner to the public and to the post office department.

Fire Guts Casino

A pre-Christmas fire discovered late Sunday night completely gutted the Sherwood's Club in Casino Park at 14th and Atlantic avenues, according to E. B. Hayne, Virginia Beach fire chief.

Operators of the club could not estimate the damage late Monday, but Hayne said that the entire inside of the building was a bonfire. According to Hayne the damage was in the corner of the dance hall where a supply of hair and nail materials were stored for a Moose Lodge dance which was to be held there New Year's Eve.

The blaze was intensified by a stiff breeze which hampered the work of the firemen. The damage was so great that Hayne ordered Virginia Beach and Bealewick police (Continued on page seven)

Beach Rotary Club Entertains Children at Christmas Party

The Virginia Beach Rotary Club entertained some 25 youngsters of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County at a Christmas party at the restaurant of the Albano's restaurant.

The children and members of the club sang several holiday songs and Santa made his grand appearance as the familiar "Jingle Bells" was sung. Each child was presented a gift and a stocking full of nuts and fruit.

Different Lands Have Different Gifts of Gifts

In America it is always Santa Claus, dashing from rooftop to rooftop in his sleigh, that brings Christmas gifts to the children. But it is not always Santa who brings the gifts to children in other lands.

In Holland it is St. Nicholas, dressed in bishop's robes of black, wearing a mitre and carrying the crozier. And he arrives on a white horse.

English children look for a "Father Christmas," who closely resembles our Santa Claus, and gifts are tied to Christmas trees.

In Finland, Santa has elves who pass out gifts for him.

In Italy there is no Santa Claus. Instead, they have a beneficent old witch, Befana, who sails through the air on a broomstick on Christmas Eve.

Brazil has Papai Noel, very much like Santa. He wears a red suit and travels in a sleigh drawn by reindeer. However, he enters the house through a window instead of the chimney.

Spanish children place their straw-filled shoes on the window sill so that the Magi may find their horses while they leave gifts. The older people fill an Urn of Fate from which the gifts are drawn on Christmas Day.

In many other parts of the world Santa is not known, but many people exchange gifts nevertheless at Christmas time.

VIRGINIA POTATOES COMPARE UNFAVORABLY IN DETAIL STUDY

Virginia potatoes didn't compare very well with those from other states in a detailed study of potato quality in 30 retail stores in Pittsburgh, Pa. Results of the study, conducted in 1950, have just been published in bulletin form.

J. M. Johnson, associate agricultural economist at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station, says that although Pittsburgh isn't one of the main markets for Virginia potatoes and that relatively few of them figured in the study, growers in this state might view the reports with concern.

The retail price of Virginia potatoes, 4.2 cents per pound, was the lowest price at which new potatoes were sold, though retail prices for all potatoes showed little change from the beginning to the end of the study.

Col. Legarde Visits Young Fry

Col. Henry G. Legarde visited the Fort kindergarten to check the progress of the kindergarten's third annual Christmas party, this week.

When the colonel arrived he was greeted by the children's singing of four Christmas carols. He conversed on the gift-exchanged classroom, which had been done by the children.

The kindergarten is conducted for the 4 to 6 year old children of military personnel stationed at Fort Story.

ORDER ORDERS NOW FOR BEST RESULTS

It's time to place orders for replacement pullets if you want the best chicks of your choice from the hatchery of your choice.

That's the advice from Les W. Herriot, associate poultry husbandman at VPI. He says if you want chicks for egg laying, either commercial or home flock, be sure to get chicks from flocks bred to lay.

Buy chicks as near home as possible. Give them a good start, feed well, and within six months they will start paying for their keep.

After death the body cools at an average rate of about 1.5 degrees an hour, says the American Medical Association.

'Coffee Break' American Habit

If ever a woman needed to take ten minutes off, it's the busy housewife.

Just what does "take ten" mean? During the war, the experience grew among our civilian soldiers. After a period of drilling the opponent in charge would say, "Take ten." Meaning ten minutes to rest and relax before starting over again.

The benefit of ten minutes was out of proportion to the brevity of the respite. Not only the body, but the mind was refreshed. Ten minutes stop before you're exhausted can equal an hour's rest after.

Between now and Christmas, women will be leading three lives in one: that of mother, housewife, and frantic shopper. The first of these can be taken in stride, because they are normal. But there's nothing normal about Christmas shopping in stores so crowded that traffic cops are needed more than clerks. And "taking ten" is the closest you'll come to dodging the frustration of it.

When you've waited your turn for 20 minutes at a handbag counter, to find that the customer ahead of you bought the dashing number you knew would go well with Susan's new sport chetivase, don't let it ruin your day—take ten minutes rest over a cup of coffee at a lunch counter. The coffee will settle your nerves, restore your sense of humor, and allow you to enjoy the shopping process, refreshment and relaxation. When your feet are sore from tramping through endless shoe departments in the store's coffee shop. That can do wonders for fatigue and a cup of coffee can do wonders for morale.

When your temper is worn thin by disappointments, when you wear yourself out in competing with the mob, when you waste hours on end without reducing your shopping list, when grief

'Against All Flags' Tale of Piracy

Colorful pirate drama. Has these names in the cast: Errol Flynn, Maurice O'Hara, Anthony Quinn, Alice Kelley, Mildred Redwick, John Tully, John Alderman, Harry Corring, Michael Ross, and Paul Newlan.

Flagged and labelled as a deserter as part of a plan to get behind the fortifications on a pirate isle in the Caribbean. English officer Errol Flynn leads with two of his women, and, although pirate Anthony Quinn is suspicious, Maurice O'Hara, whose father had been of aid to the pirates and who owns a ship which is in port, helps save his life. Flynn is signed as a right hand man to Quinn, and the latter's ship raids a vessel owned by a Par Eastern mogul.

On the ship are the latter's daughter, Alice Kelley, and other maidens. They are all sold into marriage with other pirates, but O'Hara buys Flynn to prevent Flynn, who aims to help Kelley, from getting her. Only Flynn knows Kelley's true identity. Finally, O'Hara decides to flee with Flynn to sail for England, but this plan and one to aid Kelley are thwarted by Quinn. After being found, Flynn and men manage to escape, and the English ships, signalled by Flynn, sail in.

Since Flynn and men spiked the guns, the guns are destroyed. Quinn tries to outwit the English by using Kelley as a hostage, but once again Flynn comes to the rescue, and the day is saved. O'Hara is forgiven, and all is well.

Its Tuesday through Sunday schedule, except a change in opening and closing time. Effective January 6, the 4th Act Club will open at 8 p. m. and close at 1 a. m. nightly except Monday, which night will be "dark" for Club and Theatre-Go-Round.

It gave everyone the Christmas spirit and was enjoyed by all. The society donated $10 to the Joy Fund and $5 for a Christmas basket of groceries for a needy family.

FINAL TALLY SHOWS 5227 WESTERN DEER TAKEN

A final tally of deer kill returns from counties west of the Blue Ridge shows that Virginia hunters took 5,227 deer in the six-day season, 2,161 more than last year's record kill. C. F. Phelps, chief, game division, Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, disclosed. He gave three reasons for the increase of kills in the year period. More deer to hunt; does killed on last day of season in counties having an excess deer population; and an extension of the season this year.

WATERFOWL KILL NOT IN PROPORTION TO INCREASE

proportion to the increase, it is birds don't move about. Quinn said wildfowlers look forward to good shooting with the advent of rough weather—ideal duck hunting weather—between now and January 10, 1953, closing date on waterfowl.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS SCENE

This inspiring Nativity scene has become a famous one to Virginia Beach residents in the past few years—but continues to be so. It is to be seen in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Williams, of 8405 Ocean Avenue, in leaving all who see it to do so to see the Nativity display. Mr. Williams says that this much interest had been aroused by the plant artificial Christmas tree he has erected on his property. It is 23 feet tall and contains well over 200 lights. Made of plywood, it took Mr. Williams four weeks to build.

WORSHIP THE KING

The most powerful figure in recorded history is dead. He died over 2,000 years ago.

He was the lowliest of the lowly. He lived in comparative obscurity in His own times. He was a king, yet never occupied—or sought to occupy—a throne. For His kingdom dealt not with temporal matters—much as His life has influenced them—but with the more lasting matters of the spiritual realm.

He died an ignominious death—accompanied in His execution by two common thieves. Yet He was no breaker of the laws—but a bringer of law and an interpreter of laws.

His birth, which all Christendom commemorates this week, was humble. He came of lowly parentage although of the line of kings.

His birth and His life among men—yes, His death, also—was foretold many hundreds of years before the event. And His coming was accompanied by signs and portents which appear to have been forgotten—even by His parents and closest relatives—during most of the years of His childhood and His young manhood—for there is little recorded of those precious years.

The work He did He accomplished without fanfare and what today the world terms "ballyhoo." In a sense, He sought obscurity from the world, except to those He taught to spread His good tidings.

Today we hear much of "chain reaction." Jesus of Nazareth began the greatest such chain reaction the world has known. It is even yet spreading and working far greater wonders than reaction set up in uranium and the like. For His reaction changes men's very souls—and if it can be carried to its ultimate conclusion, there would indeed be "heaven on earth."

And so it is His birthday we keep this week. It matters little that He was probably not born at this season of the calendar year, or that we have surrounded His birthday with the clap-trap of modern commercialism. Nor does it matter particularly that we also bring in a much later man—a mortal—to share His birthday, Saint Nicholas.

But it does matter if we allow all this fol-de-rol to eclipse in our hearts and minds that this is the birthday of the mightiest of kings which we commemorate. That we are paying tribute to the Son of God and the Saviour of the world—that we must not forget, else all is mockery... nay, blasphemy.

The giving of gifts is appropriate. The Wise Men gave gifts to the Babe. Thirty-odd years later that same Babe—now recognized by the few as the Christ—gave His very life in ransom for your soul. Deck the house with tinsel and glitter, but in the very midst of it, remember that His ornament was a crown of thorns and the spittle of a blood-thirsty mob.

Paul, in his ministry, said "be not conformed to this world." But most of us believe that conform to this world we must—to a greater or less degree. So we join the revelry and riot that makes Christmas as celebrated today. But in the midst of all this, we must—if we are sober, clear-headed Americans—stop in the middle of it all, and in our heart of hearts give tribute and homage to the King—Jesus the Christ, the Redeemer of the world, who, despite His death, rose from the grave, ascended into heaven and even now looks down on His people with mercy and compassion, understanding, we know, the trials that beset our faith in Him and giving each who cares for it the strength to follow in the path He has set.

Worship the King!

Boys Town an Opportunity for Christmas Giving.

Editor, Sun-News:

At this season of the year the mails are swamped with worthy appeals. Boys Town, I hope, will represent a special type of giving on the part of residents in the Tidewater and Eastern North Carolina area.

Boys Town has set a pattern for the rehabilitation of boys throughout this land, and it lives and exists only through voluntary contributions and the continuing interest of its patrons. This home has furnished shelter for boys of every color and creed and now houses nearly one thousand boys, who are sent out into the world with a thorough education. This training and preparation for their life's work enable them to properly take their places in society and who might well otherwise have become a menace.

For a very special and thrilling heart-throb this Christmas, please either mail your contributions to the writer, or directly to Boys' Town, Boys' Town, Neb.

VIRGINIA SHEEPMEN NAMED NATIONAL OFFICERS

Two Virginia sheep breeders have been named to office in national associations.

S. P. McClure, Spotswood, is the new president of the American Shropshire Registry Association, and is also a director of the American Hampshire Association.

A. L. Morrison, Staunton, has been named to the board of directors of the National Suffolk Sheep Association.

tion's three foremost pollsters, Dr. George Gallup, Archibald Crossley and Elmer Roper are going to swear off politics. After months of interviewing and projecting and plain and fancy slide-rule work with percentage points and margins of error, we still had to rely on the same old election returns to learn who won the Presidency.

Gallup, handicapped psychologically by his prediction of a Dewey victory (in which he had plenty of company) this time predicted "a tight race." Crossley said the contest could "go either way," and Roper declined to predict anything.

Orville and Wilbur Wright were charter members of the Aero club of Michigan, founded in 1909.

CURE THAT ULCER

Early in life William E. McGill, Atlanta, Ga., began a battle with fear. He did the things that he feared to do, which brought about mostly trouble. He was afraid of girls—so he tormented them; afraid to fight—so he fought; afraid of discipline and so he was constantly in trouble at school. The fellows called him "Wild Bill" and the teachers called him "The Smart Alex."

In business life the same situations arose, except now they became more serious in nature. He left his first job as a roofing salesman to become manager of a roofing department in a local hardware store. A few months later he beat up the bookkeeper and was fired. He was young, cocky, and tough—so he thought!

Finally, after an average amount of success and failure, he stood before his doctor who said he must enter a hospital to be fed scientifically for stomach ulcers brought on by business pressure. But Bill McGill says he now knows pressure came from within not from without. He was not being crushed, but literally about to explode from inward pressure which he now knows to have been brought on by himself. He was to find a new way of life.

If his trouble was arising from worry, the simple thing to do seemed to be to relax and stop worrying. What a wonderful idea! This is what he did:

1. He got the old chip off his shoulder. Ceased being so self-important and avoided every argument. He let the other fellow save face.

2. He began to smile at people. Not a silly grin, but a great, big, genuine SMILE. This was not easy—He was not in the habit of smiling at folks. But wonder of wonders, he found that people would smile back at him.

3. But real relief from pressure within came when he became genuinely interested in others. This enabled him to acquire outward interests—to think about something besides himself and what he wanted.

The ulcer got well all by itself! It simply isn't there. No inward pressure, no ulcer!

SAVING YOUR EWE LAMBS?

Saving good ewe lambs for replacements can result in high quality, profitable flocks. Saving poor lambs is one of the quickest ways out of the sheep business.

That's the advice from George Allen Jr., sheep specialist at VPI. He says to build flocks, save only lambs from the larger, heavier milking, heavier shorn, good producing ewes. Lambs unfit for market are unfit for replacements.

The development of America's modern ready to wear clothing industry grew out of problems of military supplies. World War I saw the first large-scale standardization in this field.

Jesus Commemorates the Twelve

Golden Text: Matthew 10: 39.

Men should be clothed with authority when they go out to represent a great cause. In the case of the disciples, there was added to the authority of truth they were to declare the word of the Master, giving them authority over evil spirits and power to heal all manner of sickness.

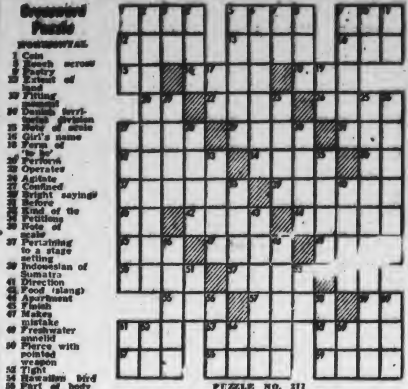

But healing was not to be their only work. They were to preach the gospel of the kingdom and call upon men to repent.

Jesus did not take from the disciples the distinction they would maintain. Neither did he enlighten them. But He told them they would be in the same class with himself, and he promised them that things would be revealed to them as they went on and on.

Though Jesus told the disciples he had not come to send peace on earth but rather conflict and division, he assured them they might enjoy a peace to be won by their own efforts. This peace would not be a mere absence of struggle but it would come in the joy and satisfaction that they might have in overcoming.

Then the Lord gave the great holding in death. We in this day are divinely commissioned to labor for the Master; let us love ourselves in unselfish service.

But healing was not to be their

'AULD LANG SYNE' HAS LONG AND UNIQUE HISTORY

"Auld Lang Syne" has become such an integral part of our modern New Year's Eve that no celebration, however gay, would be complete without it.

The music sheets for these nostalgic strains simply say "Robert Burns—Scottish Air," and Robert Burns generally is supposed to have written it after he had settled down on a farm and taken himself a wife, following the sweeping success in 1773 of the second edition of his "Poems."

"It is an old song of olden times, which has never been in print. I took it down from an old man's singing."

Research concerning this discovery that Burns was young when he told Thomson "Auld Lang Syne" never had been in print. He refused, at least, was printed originally long before Burns heard his "old man" singing.

Further, the original song often has been credited to Mr. Robert Ayton (1670-1685). Ayton was one of the earliest Scots to use the broad dialect as a literary medium. Multitudes of Americans descended from non-British stock are perpetually reminded by this dialect, now does it seem to make much sense in the standard English translation.

Regardless of its original author and origin, it was Burns who gave "Auld Lang Syne" its immortality. And through the bells now welcome the New Year with joyous peals, symbolizing mankind's hope for a bright future, the nostalgia of "Auld Lang Syne" summarizes an adherent's reluctance to leave the security

GOD BLESS IT

"There are many things from which I might have derived good, by which I have not profited. I dare say," remarked the speaker, "Christmas among the rest. But I am sure I have always thought of Christmas time, when it has come around, as a good time; a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time; and, therefore, much, though it had never put a scrap of gold or silver in my pocket, I say, God bless it!"—Charles Dickens, in "A Christmas Carol."

and friendliness of the past and embark upon a future which, however promising, may not be more pleasant. Thus, it remains a part of the English speaking heritage to "Drink a cup of kindness yet For Auld Lang Syne."

Santa Legend Needs Explaining Says Psychologist

"Children enjoy Santa Claus more when they know what he really is," Duke University psychologist Dr. Othello McHugh says.

"No one enjoys finding out that he has been kept in the dark," says the specialist in child psychology, "and children are no exception." The real meaning of Santa Claus is the joy of giving to make others happy, says Dr. McHugh, and no child should be deprived of this privilege.

Later, parents have the difficult job of explaining that there is no jolly old Christmas man. Dr. McHugh points out. When the truth comes out the parent has placed himself in the position of being responsible for Santa's disappearance.

Scandinavian Elf Is Santa's Helper

Where did Santa's Little Helper come from?

In the Viking age in Scandinavia, long before Left Erikson discovered America, the little North children believed that a little elf with long white whiskers—Jul Tuntun—lived in the stable. He saw that the earth was abundant with good food and that the animals and birds were taken care of.

After the pagan Vikings became Christianized, little Jul Tuntun became the giver of presents—like our Santa Claus today. The children left a bowl of porridge on the kitchen table for which Jul Tuntun would exchange gifts for the good boys and girls. Travelers brought back the legend of Tuntun and he has come down to us as the busy, jolly, good little elf who works in Santa's workshop.

The young Indianapolis mother who recently wrote a Christmas letter for her 5-year-old son just before her death in an airplane crash, had wonderful understanding, Dr. McHugh says. She explained her letter by telling her little son that "anyone who loves and gives is real Santa."

Americans Favor Spanish Flavor

Spanish Rice is today a recipe originated by the Spaniards. According to surveys, however, it is equally popular with Americans, and typical of the American liking for variety is the fact that it may have ground meat, fish, cheese, or any one of many other foods added to it, and still be called Spanish Rice.

The most American thing that has happened to make the old Spanish recipe really our own is a revolutionary new quick-cooking method. In 10 short minutes from the time you decide to make it, you can serve it fragrantly steaming with all the richness and flavor that was formerly acquired only by long slow cooking of the rice and tomatoes.

Called Spanish Rice Pronto, it's a homemaker's dream made possible through the quick-cooking advantages of pre-cooked rice and tomato sauce. You'll be pleased and amazed at the tender single strands of delicious rice surrounded by the flavorome goodness of rich tomato sauce.

Spanish Rice Pronto

1-4 cup bacon drippings, margarine or butter
1 medium onion, thinly sliced about 1-2 cup
1-2 medium green pepper, diced (about 1-3 cup)

44 Virgins Rotation Lapse

Forty-four new girls have been added to the rotation of the 1952-53 season.

They will report back to the 2000 reception center at Fort Meade at completion of their 1952-53 season. Among them was the Harold F. Hargreaves, of Virginia Beach.

1-3 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
1 3-4 cups hot water
2 cans tomato sauce
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 teaspoon prepared mustard, if desired.

Melt fat in saucepan. Add onion, green pepper, and rice, and cook and stir over high heat until lightly browned. Add water, tomato sauce, salt, pepper, and mustard. Mix well. Bring quickly to a boil. Cover tightly. Lower heat, and simmer gently 10 minutes. Makes four servings.

CHRISTMAS is one of those rare occasions when our thoughts turn from the more material things of life to the nobler, more beautiful ones... to our loved ones and friends... to doing for others.

THE SPIRIT of Christmas is eternal and it is gratifying to know that we can find peace and contentment in observing the birth of the King of Kings.

Old-Timers Can Recall First Killing Involving Car

Old-timers can remember the first motor vehicle accident in Virginia Beach. It had every element of a sensational story and was all the more so since it probably was the first murder case involving an automobile.

This was in 1915 when there were only 5,000 automobiles registered in all Virginia. Hester, a local man, was driving his car on the beach when he saw a man in a dark coat and hat walking along the shore. Hester stopped his car and saw the man get into a car and drive away.

One of the police men at the time was then-called the car, not to be a highwayman, as Hester charged, that the blood could not have moved through the bottom of the car.

Supporting testimony during the trial is interesting to read.

HELP FIGHT TB

Persons in Virginia who own a car, or have one, are eligible to compete for prizes in a "retention-own" contest.

George Allen Jr., executive national headquarters at VFA, says the contest, now in its second year, is designed to encourage better fleet management practices in Virginia. It is sponsored by the Virginia Purchased Fleet Association and the VFA Insurance Extension Service.

Persons who are interested should sign up by February 28. Entry blanks are available from county agents, members of the County Drivers Association, or the national headquarters at VFA.

Persons entering the contest should have an official count made of cars in December or January. County agents, vocational education instructors, R.C. representatives, or any member of the association can make the count.

The contestants who have the greatest return per car will be the winners of the contest. Prizes: first, $50; second, $25; third, $10; fourth to tenth, $5 each.

Contestants must keep records on total weight and receipts, maintenance, grade and price of maintenance, and must give one month's notice for replacement of the car per head, not an average.

Manufacturing On Upswing In Old Dominion

The annual output of Virginia manufacturing plants has increased 650 per cent in the past 26 years from $58,511,000 in 1926 to $3,144,000,000 in 1951, according to the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.

In an article in the December issue of Commerce magazine, Whitman says these figures point out the tremendous expansion of industry in Virginia during the past quarter century. He prepared the article in cooperation with Walter D. Brown and J. R. Ferrow of the industrial development department of the Virginia Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. William H. Stauffer, director of research of the Virginia Chamber of Commerce.

Citing an abundance of natural resources, excellent transportation systems and good climate, among other factors, Whitman writes that every county in Virginia has some type of manufacturing plant.

"Of a population of 2,518,000 in 1950," he notes, "more than 241,000 were employed in manufacturing."

The total manufacturing payroll in 1950 was $650,000,000, an increase of 434 per cent in 25 years, he writes.

From the standpoint of number of individual plants, the lumber and lumber products industry is the largest, according to Whitman. He says there are plants utilizing forest products in every county.

The December meeting of the Lake Shore Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. W. D. Owings.

Mrs. Troy S. Brown, now president, read an original poem in tribute to Mrs. Tom C. Brown, retiring president of the club.

Mrs. Brown presented the club with the American Camellia Year Book. Mrs. Brown, also, as hostess, presented a report on the club's activities during the year.

Canned goods were brought by the members and additional food will be purchased for a Christmas party for a needy family in Princess Anne County.

A Christmas dinner contest will be held December 23. Blue and yellow ribbons will be awarded the winners.

Christmas arrangements featuring candles were brought to the meeting and blue ribbons were awarded Mrs. Troy S. Brown, Mrs. Richard S. Duma, and Mrs. W. D. Owings.

Mrs. N. H. Brown, Mrs. W. D. Owings and Mrs. C. G. Clough. A Christmas gift exchange party followed the business meeting.

All of us have driven from a parked position in a brightly lighted area only to find we've forgotten to turn on our lights.

Be particularly careful about this when leaving a fitting station or your business car to enter a public highway. It can be too late to realize it.

Virginia Fisheries Does Sampling

Will there be a good run of shad in 1953 and 1954? That seems a long time, but William H. Massmann, biologist at the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory at Gloucester Point, thinks the numbers of fish available in those years have been determined.

"Shad which hatched out this spring will return to some rivers in Virginia for the first time in four or five years," says Massmann. "These will largely make up the catch for 1953 and the following one or two years. The largest numbers of fish die within the first few months of their life," he continues, "therefore, if we know how many shad hatch leave our rivers each fall, we may be able to predict fairly accurately the number of adult fish that will return to spawn."

Young shad were sampled in the Chickahominy, Pamunkey, Mattaponi, James and Rappahannock rivers in September. Men from the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory used a surface haul towed between two motor boats. This sampling method has recently been devised by Massmann and is very much more effective in taking representative samples than was the small hand seine formerly used.

More Yams Asked Next Year by PMA; Cut Seen in Irish Potatoes

Virginia farmers are asked to increase their production of sweet potatoes next year, but to taper off slightly on their output of the Irish type, the Production and Marketing Administration has announced.

As part of national production goals established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Virginia's 1953 sweet potato planting objective is set at 21,000 acres. That compares with 17,000 acres planted in 1952 and 1951 and a 1946-50 average of 19,200 acres. On the other hand, the white potato goal for 1953 is set at 20,000 acres compared with 27,000 acres planted the past two years and a 1946-50 average of 24,000 acres.

C. D. Jordan, Virginia's Plantation and Marketing Administrator, said that these goals are established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture using recommendations from State Agricultural Marketing Committees and in consideration of national market aspects.

The national 1953 goal for white potatoes of 1,440,000 acres is expected to produce 250,000,000 bushels, an increase of 3 per cent over 1952 production. The national sweet potato goal is 427,700 acres which is intended to provide 40,000,000 bushels, about 20 per cent more production than this year's crop.

Jordan said that Virginia's commercial Irish potato production has steadily declined in recent years, due chiefly to market competition from the heavy-yield variety from California.

Jordan said farmers to report 1952 ACP production.

Virginia farmers who performed conservation practices under the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program must make their reports to local PWA offices by January 15, 1953. C. D. Jordan, State PWA Chairman, said that only one-third of the reports had been received by mid-December.

Jordan explained that before they can be paid for ACP practices they must first file a statement with PWA showing the amount of land and fertilizer used and how much, as well as the extent to which they have conserved other practices such as plowing of cover crops and strip cropping.

Under the program, the government gives farmers incentives amounting from 40 to 60 per cent of the cost.

Payments are made either in the form of materials such as lime or seed. Some 80,000 farmers have participated during the past year, and the total outlay for the program is expected to amount to about $4 million dollars.

In 1952, farmers to report 1952 ACP performance, Jordan said, and is anxious to have ACP reports filed by the Treasury Department before the annual rush to pay income tax refunds is completed.

OPS Program Covers State

Horace H. Gato, OPS Region 4 Price Executive, announced that by Monday, December 15, the community food pricing program had been extended to all retail grocery stores in Virginia.

Community food pricing requires that retail grocers place conspicuously in their store selling price posters prepared by the Office of Price Stabilization.

The posters contain more than 300 popular market basket food items, the ceiling prices for which already have been calculated by OPS on the basis of data furnished the Price Agency by wholesale food dealers of the community to which the posters apply.

Preparation of the posters, by OPS and display of them in the stores, say price officials, result in an advantage to retail food merchants and to the shopper.

The merchant no longer is required to calculate his own ceiling on the basis of an allowed markup on his wholesale costs. The shopper, at a quick glance, can compare ceiling prices with those charged in the store where the purchases are made.

Price officials point out that the prices shown on the charts are not those the grocer is required to charge, but those above which it is illegal to charge.

In order to keep pace with changing food prices, the Office of Price Stabilization prepares and distributes new posters on an average of every five weeks. Weekly amendments for those items advanced or declined in price are furnished the grocers and must be attached to the posters on the effective date shown on the amendment.

OPS calls attention to the fact that all food items under price control are not shown on the posters, principally those most in demand having been selected for posting. Since Congress removed controls on all fruits and vegetables, fresh or processed, these foods, making up about 21 per cent of the average family food budget, are not shown on the ceiling price posters.

Anti-poisoners added to food will prevent rancidity—a problem of long-standing at rendering time. Miss Janet Cameron, nutritionist at VPI, says the anti-oxidants are available at nearly all locker plants and of many farm supply stores. They are inexpensive in use and are added to food after it is strained and while hot.

Brains + Chains — Common Sense

Brains plus chains equal sound advice on snow and ice!

That is a streamlined summary of the many important recommendations contained in "Basic Winter Driving Rules," a new booklet just published by the National Safety Council which sets down for the first time the results of 11 years of test research by the Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards.

Six basic rules for safe winter driving are offered:

1. Get the feel of the road. Try your brakes occasionally, while driving slowly and away from other traffic, to find out just how slippery the road is.

2. Slow down. Adjust your speed to road and weather conditions so that you can stop or maneuver safely.

3. Keep windshield clear. You must see danger to avoid it, so be sure your headlights, windshield wiper blades and defrosters are in top-notch condition.

4. Use tire chains on snow and ice. They cut stopping distances about in half, and increase starting and half-climbing traction by four to seven times. Even with the help of chains, however, less than normal speeds are a must on snow and ice.

5. Pump your brakes to slow down or stop. Jamming them on, can lock the wheels and throw your car into a dangerous skid.

6. Follow at a safe distance. Keep well back of the car ahead so you can have room to stop. Remember, without tire chains it takes three to 12 times as long to stop on snow and ice as on dry concrete.

Two United States Presidents were bachelors when elected to office — James Buchanan and Grover Cleveland. Cleveland, however, married during his first term while Buchanan remained single.

Women are slightly less sensitive to pain than men. On the average, they can drink fluids hotter, or hold hotter plates, without pain, than men can.

Old You Remember . . .

Old You Remember . . .

that you told all those people to drop in for refreshment tonight? Better check on the cake, cookies, soft drinks, and other goodies.

Old You Remember . . .

those last minute Christmas cards? If not, you can send telegrams to friends too far away for cards to reach them by December 25. You can even have a messenger call at your house while the guests are invited in for snacks are there, and probably everybody will remember someone far away who should have a Christmas greeting.

With sincere apologies to Clement Clarke Moore from Dorothy C. Casado. 'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house I was a busy, busy, tired little mouse. I had fixed every Christmas arrangement with care. Knowing garden club judges soon would be there. I longed to be nestled all snug in my bed. But had to watch close lest a flower should shed. And oh, how I yawned as I yearned for a nap. Then out on the porch there arose such a chatter I wondered if all the flowers would shatter. I opened the door and said, "Do

Free Holiday Season Is Led by State Chamber

The Virginia Beach State Chamber of Commerce is leading the holiday season with a series of events. During February, March and April, the committee will stress civic up activity to do away with the "blue" in May, June and July. It turns its activity to promoting fire prevention, and from August through October, it promotes the "Fire Prevention Week."

Tinted Shields OK in Virginia

In condemning tinted glass for windshield shields, the State College of Virginia gives the following reasons: They lower acuity. They make objects of the same color harder to see because of contrast.

They reduce the amount of light entering the eye. Anything that reduces light entering the eye reduces distance judgment.

There is some evidence that tinted glass reduces the ability to detect fatigue of the eyes.

The engineering of the AAMVA after conducting several tests in conjunction with the Virginia State Police, has approved the glass and is approved by the State Police for use in Virginia.

Plenty of Lumber for Defense And Civilian Needs, Says Assn.

The nation's lumbermen say there will be plenty of lumber available for both civilian and defense requirements next year.

John B. Veach, chairman of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, also predicts that consumers will get greater value and better service for their lumber dollars during 1953.

Veach estimates that 1953 production and demand will be about the same as this year.

This forecast is based chiefly on the prospect of increased building activity in most fields and indications that slightly more than one million new homes will be started next year. Veach says there also will be a big demand for lumber in the defense program.

Lumbermen face higher operating costs next year, according to Veach. But he believes that these will be absorbed by more efficient production methods and advances in wood technology.

If all the lumber produced this year had been diverted into home construction, about 4,883,000 average size frame houses could have been built.

Adm. S. S. Cook Heads New Body

Rear Adm. S. S. Cook (MC), USN, Fifth Naval District medical officer, has been selected honorary president of the Norfolk chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., being organized by a group of local citizens.

When fully activated this chapter plans to open a consultation and information clinic in Norfolk and is conducting a drive for funds during December.

Admiral Cook describes muscular dystrophy as a progressive disease which attacks the muscular system by starvation of muscle fibers and is found more in children than adults.

The main purpose of the association, says Admiral Cook, is to extend medical investigation of the disease. Fifteen research projects are in operation in medical schools and hospitals in the United States and abroad. Projects are being conducted at Johns Hopkins University, University of Paris, and Cornell University Medical College, plus many more.

Funds raised will be used for new research projects, fellowships to young doctors for advanced study in the field of muscle disease, etc.

Admiral Cook says, "Every year thousands of children and adults are afflicted by muscular dystrophy. Extensive medical research holds the cure and treatment of these victims."

Maintenance of the program is dependent on voluntary contributions for financial support. Checks may be made out to the Muscular Dystrophy Association, Inc., and mailed to the MDA, Norfolk Chapter, Post Office Box 2044 Norfolk, Va. Coin boxes can be found throughout the city.

Some 40 probationary troopers will begin the 12-week grind of basic training January 5 at the training school in Richmond. Uniform strength is now 446 compared with 493 a year ago.

It is estimated that one-sixth of all patents granted are for automotive inventions.

SALE IS IMPORTANT FOR NEW CATTLE

Salt is one of the minerals that must be in the ration of beef cattle. Curtis Noel, associate animal husbandman at VPI, says cattle given all the salt they want digest their food better, eat more of it, and gain faster at lower cost than animals slighted on salt.

The best way to feed salt is in a box of loose granular salt protected from the weather. Noel says there is no harm in block salt. Some farmers say you stake block salt around several different points in the field so a cow is never more than five minutes from it, block salt is less of a problem. Block salt won't fill the bill completely. Always use loose salt, too.

QUALITY HAY, SLACK SUPPLY VITAMIN A

Dairy cattle don't need extra vitamin A in winter ration if they are fed plenty of high quality lucerne hay and corn silage. E. G. Connolly, dairy manager at VPI, says quality hay and silage provide enough carotene, the compound from which cows get their Vitamin A. He says carotene will be low in the ration only when very poor hay and silage are fed. Even then, the best to parcel out some of the winter hay, or to feed some silage throughout the winter period.

When Called Song of Heaven

"When Called" is often called "Song of Heaven" because the story of its inspiration and composition is one of the most beautiful stories in existence.

On December 24, 1916, in the mountain village of Hallein, Austria, a young girl named Maria, who was only 11 years old, was sitting at her desk in her school, when she was visited by a beautiful angel. The angel told her that she was to be a saint and that she was to write a song for the angels. Maria wrote the song and it was called "When Called".

The story of Maria's life is a beautiful one. She was a very pious girl and she was very kind to everyone. She was very brave and she was very strong. She was very beautiful and she was very smart. She was very happy and she was very content. She was very good and she was very kind. She was very brave and she was very strong. She was very beautiful and she was very smart. She was very happy and she was very content. She was very good and she was very kind.

also, the words kept turning into verse. When dawn came he found he had written a poem—a beautiful and moving poem.

On Christmas Day his friend, Franz Xaver Gruber, music teacher in the village school, composed music to fit the verses.

Village children heard the priest and teacher singing the song and learned it. From there it spread throughout the world. Today, it is regarded as the greatest Christmas hymn and wherever there are men of good will they sing:

"Silent night, holy night—
All is calm, all is bright.
Round yon Virgin, Mother and Child;
Holy Infant, so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace—

RATIO OF SLAUGHTER TO INVENTORIES COULD BE EXPLOSIVE

A potentially explosive condition is seen by VPI agricultural economists as they look at the inventory-slaughter picture for cattle and calves for 1953.

They explain that in the past two years, the normal rate of slaughtering has been reduced sharply, and cattle and calf numbers have increased rapidly. The 31 per cent slaughtered in 1951 and 1952 was the lowest since 1933. During the 10 years 1940-1949 the number slaughtered averaged 29 per cent of the year's beginning inventory.

Dupont Plants Boost Business

Virginia and West Virginia business received a 100 million dollar boost from operations at seven Du Pont plants in those states during 1951, the company reports.

The company said an economic survey, just completed, showed that in addition to the buying power represented by $65,000,000 in wages and salaries for 14,300 employees, $40,000,000 worth of materials and services was bought for the plants from about 1,000 companies in the two states.

In dollar volume, cost and chemicals were among the largest items on the shopping lists for the plants, but it took many types of industry to supply all of their requirements, including machinery of many sorts, safety equipment, plumbing, paper, paint, glass, food for non-profit employee cafeterias, insulation, petroleum products, containers.

Some plants needed supplies seldom associated with industry, such as diaper cloth for filters; gun snails and butcher knives for

Anglers of Two States in Fish Fight

Anglers from the past year of their lakes and lagoons report that it requires two hours of fishing for each fish caught, but it is worth the effort.

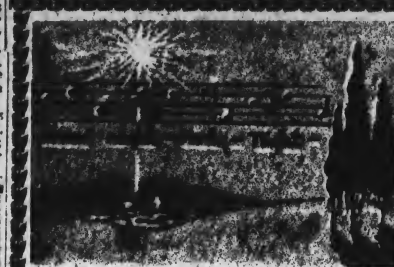

Of these lakes and lagoons, the most popular is Lake Mead, in Patrick County, ranked first providing an average catch of one fish every hour and 15 minutes, but small in size and crappie per-

The two South Eastern States, in Washington County, lived up to the community's previous expectations by providing fishermen one fish for every hour and 25 minutes fished. It is known that with Lake Mead, the best of all fishing for size and quantity of fish in the state.

Fishermen may be interested to know that the most fish were caught in the months of May, June, and October, with the artificial lure specialists making the biggest and best catches.

First organized laundries in the United States were developed to serve the gold rush prospectors in California.
